The Wonderful South And Carefree Palm Beach Startling, Quick Growth Buy the Land of No Regrets

THIS IS written at Palm Beach, happy land, where those with nothing to do are doing it energetically. The blue sea is beautifully calm; the breeze that sweeps across it is mild.

The water is warm. Human beings are bobbing up and down in it, fashionable and unfashionable. It is easy to distinguish the "fashionable," for they have little on in the way of bathing suits. The "unfashionable" have more on, long skirts, and even stockings—they are backward.

You walk along the ocean boulevard, pitifully conscious of the fact that your shoes are black leather, whereas they ought to be white buckskin, and your trousers plain wrinkled blue, that ought to be carefully ironed out white flannels.

A vision flies past on a bicycle, going to swim. They all ride on bicycles here to reduce the size of the waist; or if they don't care what size it is, they sit in wide chairs, two by two, pushed by colored gentlemen.

THE BICYCLE vision, typical of this happy, carefree land, is theoretically covered with a striking Japanese cloak. The cloak flies back in the wind, the lady flutters along joyously in her one-piece bathing suit. She wouldn't do that on Fifth avenue, Michigan avenue, or Beacon street, but this is the land of happy, carefree life.

THE BIG hotels are packed; a camel could go through the eye of a needle much more easily than you could get into a big hotel here.

Think what it will be a few years hence at Palm Beach, Miami, St. Augustine, Jacksonville, all the marvelous resorts of Florida, Georgia, and the Carolinas, when the flying machine annihilates distance.

Soon Boston, New York and Chicago will send pilgrims flying through the air in four or five hours. Then the hotels will be multiplied by fifty and the cottages by five hundred.

Buy land in the South, well chosen, and you won't regret it.

THOSE THAT live North know little about the South and the rapidity of its growth, surpassing all growth elsewhere. The Seaboard Line supplies its passengers with impressive facts.

Thirty-seven million people live in the South. The value of their property is estimated at 65 billion dollars. That sum, 65 times one thousand million dollars, is a good deal. But it represents only a fraction of the real wealth of the South. Florida alone is worth several times what is called "the true value of property in Southern States."

Abrams' Machine Sealed

APPARATUS USED ONLY ON LEASE

Device Can Be Had Only After Contract Is Made Not to Open It

The outstanding piece of apparatus devised by Dr. Albert Abrams, founder of "Electronic Reactions of Abrams," is the "Oscilloclast," according to the Journal of the American Medical Association.

In their issue of March 25, 1922, it was referred to as "the piece de resistance as it were, of physico-clinical diagnosis and treatment."

According to the Abrams theory, all diseases are measurable in vibrations. The Oscilloclast gives out electrical impulses at a vibratory rate corresponding to that of the disease, it is claimed, and consequently destroys it when applied to a patient.

"This device is not for sale," the article continued. "It can be had only on lease after signing a contract not to open the device, which is hermetically sealed.

USED BY OSTEOPATHS

"The first payment is $200 or $250, according to whether it is wired for alternating or direct current. Then there is a monthly payment of $5.

Closes Tut's Tomb, Calling Natives Discourteous

Luxor, Egypt, Feb. 13 (A.P.).—Owing to what he characterized as the "discourtesy" of the Egyptian Public Works Department, Howard Carter, head of the excavation work, closed Tut-Ankh-Amen's tomb today and abandoned operations.

It is understood the crisis was precipitated by the refusal of the Egyptian government to permit the wives of the excavators to visit the tomb this morning.

Carter's notice said:

"The tomb will be closed and no further work will be carried out."

FELSCH, "BLACK SOX," PINCHED FOR PERJURY

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 13.—Oscar (Happy) Felsch, former White Sox ball player, who testified yesterday at the trial of Joe Jackson's suit for $18,000 against the Chicago club of the American League, was arrested at the opening of court today on a charge of perjury.

Felsch and Jackson are two of the half-dozen White Sox accused of "throwing" the 1919 World's Series to the Cincinnati Reds in consideration of bribes.

BEVERLY MEN NOT CONVICTED OF ARSON

Through an error in a Salem court report the American of February 9 printed an item which said that Theodore Koronakos and Manley T. Sollvicos had been convicted of arson. The charge against the two men was "burning a building so as to defraud the insurance company," and the men were not found guilty, the case being continued until tomorrow. The American regrets the error. The men involved are former business men of Beverly, the charges against them arising from the destruction by fire of the Star Block in Beverly on February 1.

WINTHROP MYSTERY UNSOLVED

Judge Barnes, After Inquest, Unable to Find if Downes Was Slain or a Suicide

Mystery in the death of William Downes, Winthrop postoffice clerk, whose body was found in his home at No. 9 Rowdoin street, Winthrop, on December 28, deepened today when Judge Joseph H. Barnes in East Boston court, before whom the inquest was held, reported to District Attorney O'Brien

"I am unable to find, from the evidence presented, whether it was done by his own hand or the hand of another."

A screwdriver had been driven into Downes' brain behind the right ear with a hammer. The blood-stained screw-driver and the hammer were found beside his body.

All doors and windows in the house were locked—from the inside. His daughter, on returning home from work in Boston, was forced to spring back a weak window latch and enter through a window.

Chief of Police William A. McNeil and Lieut. Douglas, following an investigation, declared that, in their opinion, Downes was a suicide.

Associate Medical Examiner William H. Watters, however, after an examination of circumstances connected with the case, ordered an inquest. This was completed in East Boston court several days ago.

Judge Barnes, in his report to the district attorney, stated:

"Mr. Downes came to his death in consequence of a penetrating wound of the brain, caused by a screw-driver driven by force into the head, presumably with a hammer, which, covered with blood, was found near his body in the bedroom of his own home.

"There was no indication of any other person being in the house when the act was committed and I am unable to find, from the evidence presented, whether it was done by his own hand or another."

In addition to the entirely locked house, several other mysterious features were connected with the case. One was a trail of blood leading from the bedroom to the bathroom and another was a blood-smeared mirror in the bedroom.

GILDA GRAY ROBBED OF $43,900

Bandits Hold Up Dancer at Gun Point in Chicago and Flee With Gems

Chicago, Feb. 13. — Gilda Gray, a dancer, reported to the police that she had been robbed by three men of jewelry valued at $42,000 and $1,500 in cash.

The robbery occurred in the hallway of an apartment building in which Miss Gray has resided during the run here of the musical show with which she appears. She just had left the theatre and been driven home by her chauffeur, Joseph Connolly, who witnessed the robbery.

WARNED BY HUSBAND.

Miss Gray, married recently to Gaillard T. Boag, wealthy New York cabaret owner, said that before her husband returned to New York Monday he had warned her against carrying so much jewelry. She said she used most of the pieces in her dances, however.

According to the report to the police, one of the robbers followed her into the apartment building entrance hall, and the other two came close behind. One of them covered Theodore Hill, the elevator man, with a pistol.

CARRIED IN HANDBAG.

All of the jewelry taken was in a small handbag, the dancer told the police. She said the robbers cursed her and held a pistol against her side as they searched her for other jewelry she might have been wearing.

Among the articles listed as stolen were:

A diamond pendant on a diamond studded chain, $6,000; a pin containing 103 lamonds, $1,000; seven bracelets, $5,000; a diamond ring, $5,000; a bracelet with three rows of diamonds, $5,000; a sapphire bracelet, $2,100; a diamond and sapphire bracelet, $3,100; a sapphire and diamond ring, $3,000; a 4½-carat ring, $3,000, and a diamond wedding ring, $4,000.

MAY CALL GARFIELD TO PROBE SCANDAL

Senate Fight Forces President to Act; Same Fate for Pomerene

Washington, Feb. 13.—Inquiry into charges of fraudulent land conveyances in Texas was ordered today by the Senate in adopting a resolution offered by Senator H. Flin, Democrat, Alabama. The case involves H. B. Creager, a close friend of President Harding.

Washington, Feb. 13.—President Coolidge is preparing to withdraw from the Senate the nominations of Silas H. Strawn of Illinois and Atlee Pomerene, of Ohio, as special government counsel in the oil lease cases.

James R. Garfield of Ohio, who was secretary of the interior under Roosevelt, may be chosen in place of Mr. Strawn.

Mr. Garfield, who was called to the White House today by Mr. Coolidge, is regarded by the President's advisers as having the qualifications desired.

SAVED EMBARRASSMENT.

The President does not desire to subject Strawn and Pomerene to embarrassment through failure of Senate confirmation. He had considered the possibility of appointing them special assistant attorney-generals, for which no Senate confirmation would be necessary, but has decided not to do so.

HITS EVERY OFFICIAL.

Prediction that public opinion will force President Coolidge to remove every official connected with the oil reserve leases, was made today by Senator Robinson, Democratic leader, in reply to the President's refusal to accept the Senate's advice and ask for the resignation of Secretary Denby.

Charging "bad faith, fraud and secret dealing" in connection with the leasing of Teapot Dome to Harry F. Sinclair by ex-Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall, Leo Stack, Denver oil man and politician, took the stand in the Senate's oil investigation today and submitted to a grueling cross examination regarding his allegations.

PROBERS TOLD THAT TEAPOT LEASE WAS "FIXED" FOR SINCLAIR

Stack's charges include the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and subsidiaries which claimed rights in the naval oil reserve and which were paid $1,000,000 by Sinclair to quiet claims, he said.

Aside from the $1,000,000 Stack alleged that the real consideration which the Standard Company obtained from Sinclair was a half interest in the pipeline from the Wyoming fields, required to be constructed by the oil magnate in the lease contract, he negotiated with Fall.

OFFER FLATLY REFUSED.

Under questioning by Senator Lenroot, Stack said he applied for lease to Teapot Dome, acting for the Midwest Refining Company, on May 30, 1917. He declared he offered to drill wells on the reserve and give the Navy all fuel oil, his company only reserving the water rights and gasoline.

His offer was flatly refused by the Navy, Stack said, and the negotiations temporarily ended.

After Congress passed the Navy Leasing Act on June 4, 1920, Stack said he approached E. L. Doheny about going in with him for a lease to the Dome.

"Doheny was not enthusiastic at first, but later we went in together," Stack said. "So I came to Washington and went to my friend George Creel and asked him to introduce me to Secretary of the Navy Daniels.

PAID $5,000 TO CREEL

"I was told the oil was being drained by wells in adjacent fields and it seemed to me it would be wise for the navy to lease part of the reserve to save its oil."

Stack repudiated Creel's testimony that he was unaware that Doheny was backing the proposition for the lease.

"He (Creel) knew Doheny was my backer."

"I told Doheny I wanted Creel in the deal because he could do things in Washington I couldn't do. Doheny agreed and gave me $5,000 for Creel.

"I wanted him to introduce me to the heads of the different departments with which I had to deal. I hired him for that one purpose. In November, 1920.

"I later found that Creel was not much of a business man. I could not get things through his head."

In April or May, 1921, Stack instructed his geologists to submit the report to the Government survey "about the danger of drainage." He said the survey confirmed the report "and I placed the matter before the Navy."

"I went to Secretary Denby. He said 'nothing doing about the lease.' I told him about the Navy losing money on royalty oil.

"He said, in view of this, that he would look into the matter.

"Then I learned the Pioneer company was trying to get Teapot Dome under the leasing act of Congress. I was to get a lease under the Navy Bill of 1920. That caused a conflict between us."

DANIELS OBDURATE.

To Stack's argument that Teapot Dome was being drained, he said Daniels replied, "the government is getting royalty from oil from the adjacent wells, so the Navy isn't losing anything."

Stack said he also talked with Commanders Shafroth and Stewart "but I couldn't get them to see that the oil was being drained."

Previous testimony indicated that Shafroth and Stewart were detached from duty by Secretary Denby because they opposed leasing of the reserve.

In January, 1921, Stack made a separate contract with Doheny, "telling him I was confident the incoming administration would grant a lease."

"In view of this we all tried to get together, but because of the attitude and dilatory tactics of the Pioneer Company, Doheny said he wanted to retire, if reimbursed, and if the Pioneer gave me a fair contract.

TOOK CHECK FOR $11,000.

"That was agreed to and in December I entered a contract with Pioneer giving me 5 per cent. of profits on offset wells and 8 per cent. on other wells.

Stack said Pioneer was a subsidiary of the Midwest Refining Company and Midwest a subsidiary of the Standard Oil of Indiana.

"So Doheny stepped out and these companies gave me a cashier's check for $14,000 covering all expenses."

Stack explained later that the Belco Company was made a party to the contract.

Asks Why Sinclair, Doheny and Fall Are at Liberty

Washington, Feb. 13.—Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, flung a challenge at the President today. Reading from the New York speech the portion in which Coolidge said he would prosecute every Republican found involved, McKellar demanded the President explain why he permitted E. L. Doheny, Harry F. Sinclair and ex-Secretary Fall to remain at liberty.

"Every American citizen will applaud the President's statement, but for two weeks every one in Washington has known that former Secretary Fall was bribed by E. L. Doheny and Harry F. Sinclair," McKellar said.

"There is a district attorney in Washington, but no steps were taken to indict any one of these three men. If an exservice man stole a loaf of bread, he would now be in jail, but these three men have been allowed to remain at liberty. The President should tell us why."

URGE BRIDGE ACROSS LAKE CHAMPLAIN

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 13.—Construction of a vehicular bridge across Lake Champlain, as part of a Federal aid highway, is the ultimate object of a concurrent resolution introduced in the Legislature today.

The resolution seeks to memorialize Congress to investigate, in co-operation with the authorities of the States of New York and Vermont, all the practicable sites and the feasibility and probable construction cost of such a bridge. It recites that Lake Champlain is under Federal control and constitutes a natural barrier between New York and New England and that there is no bridge across the lake between Whitehall and the Canadian border, a distance of 110 miles.

COOLIDGE WILL CLEAN UP OIL SMUDGE

Promises Speedy Prosecution of Republicans and Democrats Alike in Big Scandal

New York, Feb. 13.—In his first address outside Washington since his inauguration of the White House, President Coolidge at a Lincoln Day dinner of the National Republican Club, declared he would insist on unshrinking prosecution of the oil and naval cases.

The President reiterated his opposition to the soldiers' bonus, and urged public support for the Mellon tax bill, called for assistance for agriculture and defended his policy of selling arms to Mexico.

"There will be immediate, adequate, unshrinking prosecution, criminal and civil, to punish the guilty and to protect every national interest," said the President in his reference to the oil cases.

"The power of justice cannot be long delayed. The moral force of Lincoln is with us still. 'He that keepeth Israel shall neither slumber nor sleep.'"

"GRAVE DANGER."

The President was blunt in his opposition to the bonus. In summing up his stand he said:

"The bonus would mean the indefinite postponement of any tax reduction, another increase in the cost of living, more deying up of the sources of credit, and a probable raising in the rates of interest; all of which would result in inflation and higher prices, with the grave danger of ultimate disaster to our economic system."

He said he sympathized with the farmers in their present plight. The farmer, he declared, "is not receiving his share."

He outlined the steps already taken to aid the farmer—encouragement of co-operative marketing—investigation of tariff rates—and then added.

"But what I am most anxious to impress upon the prosperous people of our country is the utmost need that they should be willing to make sacrifice for the assistance of the unsuccessful part."

FOR MELLON PLAN.

The President indicated that he is strongly against any of the proposed changes in the Mellon tax plan now before Congress.

"I am opposed," he said, "to material alternation and compromise because I wish to give all the people all the relief which the ... ill possess."

At the President's elbow, during the address, sat Theodore Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, whose political future is closely connected with the present oil investigations.

In a box overlooking the dining hall was Mrs. Coolidge, the President's wife, who was given an ovation when she bowed in acknowledgment of a huge basket of roses sent her by the President.

"Sensational Evidence" Offered to Oil Probers

Washington, Feb. 13.—Karl C. Schuyler, a Denver attorney, telegraphed Senator Walsh today that he has correspondence which the Senate oil committee should have.

At the same time, Senator Walsh received a telegram from D. F. Stackelback of the Denver Post, saying he had good reason to believe the correspondence in Schuyler's possession was "sensational."

Schuyler will be called as a witness. His telegram said:

"I acted as personal counsel to John Leo Stack in connection with his contract with Pioneer Oil Company and his claims arising there from. Charges have been made in the local newspapers which, by information, involved me in wrongdoing in connection with the subject matter.

"I also have in my possession certain correspondence which I believe your committee should see and hereby request opportunity to appear before you at earliest convenient time."

FATE OF 6 HIGH OFFICIALS IN BALANCE

Roosevelt, Lattimer and Robison Involved in the Oil Lands Scandal

Washington, Feb. 13 (C.N.S.)—The Senate's demand for resignation of Secretary of the Navy Denby today drew attention of the possible fate of six other government officials mentioned in testimony in the Teapot Dome scandals. Their names and the evidence regarding them follows:

THEODORE ROOSEVELT, Assistant Secretary of the Navy—Carried the leases between Denby and Fall and, later, the White House, told Admiral Griffin he got Fall to agree to an important amendment to the lease, but which Griffin declared would not save a gallon of naval oil; his brother, Archie got job with Sinclair Oil Company.

EDWARD C. FINNEY, Assistant Secretary of the Interior—Known as "Faithful Finney" in the Ballinger timberlands case, signed the first Doheny lease for the government.

Foster H. Bain, chief of the Bureau of Mines—Went to Fall's ranch in Three Rivers, N. M., and arranged some of the details of the leases.

A. W. Ambrose, Bain's assistant—Went with the United States Marines to drive off the settlers who threatened to interfere with Doheny and Sinclair.

Julian L. Lattimer, Rear Admiral, U. S. N.—Passed on the "legality" of the executive order transferring the reserves from the Navy to the Interior Department; also passed on legality of the leases features which arranged for the transfer of oil, etc., between the government and Sinclair and Doheny. Senate has declared leases illegal.

John K. Robison, Rear Admiral in charge of Bureau of Engineering—U. S. N. trial of Doheny's son during war; drew leases for exchange of oil, the leases being illegal, in opinion of the Senate.

X-RAY TREATMENT FOR WHOOPING COUGH PROVING SUCCESS

METHOD RELIEVES PATIENTS

Experiments on Boston Floating Hospital Gratifying to Dr. Bowditch

Will the X-ray prove itself the long looked-for remedy for whooping cough?

A new departure in the treatment of this disease has been inaugurated at the Boston Floating Hospital, where, for the last year, patients have been experimented upon with great success.

Dr. Henry I. Bowditch, physician-in-charge of the Hospital, has renewed the treatment of whooping cough with the X ray, which treatment was discovered in 1911 by a Russian physician, and abandoned by him as impractical.

PIONEER IN TREATMENT.

Dr. Bowditch is the pioneer in this method of treatment in the New England States, and while cures in all cases are not completely affected through the agency of the X-ray, great things are expected of it in the near future, the doctor said.

"Seventy-five per cent. of the cases respond to treatment," said Dr. Bowditch. "During a period of two months last year, we treated 338 cases with gratifying results.

SHORTENS DISEASE.

"This treatment shortens the duration of the disease; lessens the cough; and enables the child to get much needed sleep.

"These treatments—which last from one to five minutes, according to the age and condition of the patient—are given three times the first week, with one day between treatments; then a week is allowed to elapse; and another series begun; and then a third. We can, if we wish, make slight deviations from this course.

PERMANENT RELIEF

"About eight hours after the patient has first been submitted to the X-ray, symptoms of relief are experienced. However, on the second day a reaction sets in, and the patient may feel worse than ever. After the third, and sometimes as late as the fifth treatment, permanent relief is felt.

"If a case of prolonged whooping cough is brought to our attention, we can stop it almost immediately. But, if the patient contracts a cold after the disease is cured, it results in another attack of whooping cough.

DISEASE FATAL TO YOUNG

"I wish we could induce parents to report all whooping cough cases to us. In the instance of very young children, this disease is fatal; and, other considerations aside, it is very infectious and goes on spreading until an epidemic is created.

"Again, people do not realize that whooping cough may produce a relaxed condition, leaving its victims susceptible to such diseases as pneumonia and tuberculosis.

"The important thing for parents is to be able to recognize this disease and then have it treated.

NO BURNING.

"No unpleasant sensation is experienced as the result of these X-ray treatments. The ray is reduced to a minimum to prevent possible burning.

"I am going to New York to consult with physicians who have used this method since shortly after we started it, and after we compare notes, we will submit our report, which should be ready about the middle of May. We will then be better able to tell the public just how much of a success this mode of treatment is."

1,023 TREATED.

Dr. Bowditch is assisted in his work by Miss H. N. Williams, X-ray technician, who administers the treatments under his direction. Miss Williams was formerly connected with the Massachusetts General Hospital in the department of X-ray therapy.

Miss Williams stated that she had given 1,023 treatments to 338 patients from the period of March 15 to May 23, 1923, the youngest patient being four weeks old, and the oldest forty-three.

NEW WHOOPING COUGH CURE

HOW X-RAYS ARE USED ON PATIENT

Treatments of from one to five minutes duration are given according to the age of the patient. After the third or fifth treatment permanent relief is effected. The rays are reduced so that no burning is experienced. Inset shows Dr. Henry I. Bowditch of Boston, pioneer of this treatment, whose experiments at the Boston Floating Hospital on children suffering from whooping cough have met with great success.

U. S. Breaks With Honduras Until Peace Comes

Washington, Feb. 13 (A.P.).—Diplomatic relations between the United States and the government of Honduras have been severed by the state department.

The step was taken because of the failure of three political factions in Honduras to reach an agreement under which constitutional government can be restored by peaceful means.

COURT RULES WILSON SUIT MAY CONTINUE

Charles Elmer Wilson and his wife, who claim to have been ousted from their home by their son and daughter-in-law, were allowed to continue their suit in Suffolk Superior Court when Judge Nelson P. Brown today overruled a demurrer filed by the son, Charles Elmer Wilson, Jr.

The father and mother claim that several years ago they signed over their home, at No. 24 Linden road, Melrose, to their son's wife, on condition that they be allowed to spend their remaining days with the couple. The conditional agreement was not in writing and it was on this ground that the son filed a demurrer. Judge Brown says he will consider the case on its merits.

Moscow—Norway has given the Russian Soviet government recognition de jure, the Foreign Office was informed today in a telegram received from Mme. Alexandra Kollontay, Soviet representative in Norway.

Gibraltar—The crew of the five-masted auxiliary schooner Republique which was burned at sea has been rescued by the Spanish steamship Romeu. The Republique was a total loss.

Geneva—Various American financial experts, whose names are not disclosed, are being sounded by the League of Nations as to whether they would accept the position of High Commissioner in Hungary when the League's financial reconstruction plan is definitely undertaken.

SKIPPER OFF A DAY SICK; 8 MEN FOLLOW

Police Captain Skillings Returns to Find Flock of His Stalwarts Missing

They were following it today—the 13th, at that—much to the chagrin of the skipper.

A sick list is a rare thing at the station. Either the men are tougher or the captain is. But the skipper started something when he picked up a bit of lumbago and remained home by the fireside to roast it out of his system.

When he returned to work he found he had acquired a sick list of three men. A little doubling up on routes fixed that, however, so he wasn't perturbed.

EIGHT NAMES ON LIST.

Today, however, when he lined up his charges for rollcall he discovered that his new sick list had hit a bull market and hit it hard. Eight names decorated the list.

Patrolman John Powers went along the line yesterday warning storekeepers to clear their sidewalks of ice—and then he slipped himself and broke his wrist.

Patrolman Jesse Bradbury, chasing a fugitive, somersaulted over a man who fell in his haste to get out of the way. One fractured rib for Bradbury.

Patrolman Leslie Dickford skidded in front of his home when leaving for duty and volplaned down on his head.

Patrolman Wendell Moulton has the grippe.

EVEN TONY IS HIT.

Patrolman Andrew Duncan, riding with the paymaster at Deer Island, made a stab for the reins when the old fire horse started to move ahead of schedule. Duncan missed cleanly and alighted gracefully on one finger on the frozen ground. The finger snapped.

Patrolman William Desmond acquired a broken hand teaching some sailors in Scollay square how to scrap.

Patrolman Herbert Schultz is suffering with hernia.

When Captain Skillings finished reading the list he glanced over to where Janitor Tony Campagna was reading the American "funnies."

"What are you suffering from—plain laziness?" roared the skipper.

Tony grinned assent.

"Put him on the sick list," ordered the captain hopelessly.

HALTS FROZEN VIRUS USE IN FITCHBURG

Fitchburg, Feb. 13.—Alertness on the part of Dr. Oscar A. Dudley of Worcester, district health officer of the Massachusetts State Board of Health, prevented the inoculation of Fitchburg school children with anti-diphtheria serum that had been frozen.

The children were given the Schick test two weeks ago and after this test had been completed and the children susceptible to diphtheria discovered, preparations were made to inject the anti-diphtheria serum. Dr. Dudley observed that the serum was cloudy and partly crystallized. It was returned to the State health office and new serum substituted.

SPURNS LIGHT PENALTY, GETS NINE MONTHS

Flint, Lottery Swindler, Refusing 3-Month Term, Appeals Full Sentence

Edward W. Flint of No. 59 St. James street, Roxbury, who made thousands from lotteries he conducted, refused to serve three months in jail for his offences.

In Roxbury Court, where Flint's attorney agreed to a finding of guilty on three charges, Judge Palmer offered a three-months sentence on each count and also offered to suspend sentence on two of the charges.

Flint objected, so the judge gave him a straight nine-months sentence in the House of Correcton.

Flint appealed and the judge announced he would inform the Superior court of Flint's refusal to accept the lighter sentence.

Agents of the Watch and Ward Society and police raided the Flint home some time ago. They found 500,000 lottery tickets and books and papers showing, they declare, that the lotteries were crooked and that the profits to Flint amounted anywhere from $6,000 to $25,000 a year.

Rev. J. Frank Chase, secretary of the Watch and Ward Society, told Judge Palmer that Flint's greatest business was done in factories where Flint's agents induced the workers to buy tickets by taunting them with being "cheap-skates" and "tin horns" if they refused.

ABANDONS LINCOLN SPEECH TO DANCE

Milford, Ct., Feb. 13.—Because, he said, he wanted to dance and was sure there were others who also wanted to, Governor Charles A. Templeton, with manuscript of a speech of tribute to the memory of Lincoln in his hand, did not deliver it at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet. Instead he made a few impromptu remarks in humorous vein, replying to Albert E. Lavery of Bridgeport, a speaker who had preceded him and who had referred humorously to some things a Governor was supposed to do when accepting public invitations to speak.

The Governor was one of the first on the floor for the dance which followed the banquet.

DOCTORS SPLIT ON YEARLY REGISTER

Albany, Feb. 13.—Two doctors, members of the New York Assembly, are divided in their opinion over a bill introduced to compel all physicians in the State to register each year.

Dr. Frank H. Lattin of Orleans, a member of the lower body of the Legislature and a Republican, is heartily in favor of the measure, declaring it would give adequate protection to the medical profession.

Dr. William H. Love of Brooklyn, a Senator and a Democrat, is opposed to the measure, declaring that if the doctors should register each year so should the members of every other profession.

Killed by Coal

Greenfield, Feb. 13.—John Zupki, 40, of Deerfield street, was smothered in a coal hopper in the Boston & Maine yards at East Deerfield today.

DANA ASKS BOXER'S ARREST

Thinks State Ought to Make Example of Downes for Job Fraud

Payson Dana, State commissioner of civil service, is opposed to any "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" business among State employes.

As a result of this opposition to the game of "now you know him and now you don't," he has recommended that the State prosecute Johnny Downes, South Boston pugilist, and Edward M. Sheehy of No. 778 Broadway, [illegible] Boston.

It all came about this way:

Sheehy aspired to be a janitor in the service of the State. He took the civil service examination and was hired.

Sheehy got his letter of appointment. About that time the idea of manicuring dirty stairs or [illegible]y shampooing rugs didn't look so good to him.

He remembered his old-time war buddie, Johnny Downes.

Being a boxer and a boxing instructor was proving rather unremunerative about December, 1922, and Johnny needed work. Sheehy told him about the janitorial appointment and told Johnny to go to it. Johnny went.

Of course he applied under Sheehy's name and he got by with it. He was assigned to duty at Hyde Park municipal building and as a janitor he was no slouch. He remained faithful to the broom, the mop and the duster—all under the nome de plume of Sheehy until several days ago—when an anonymous letter to Fred C. Kneeland, superintendent of buildings, let the cat out of the bag.

Johnny was promptly fired.

Now Commissioner Dana thinks somebody should go to jail or pay a fine and he has recommended to the Attorney-General that prosecutions be made in the case.

PLAN LEAGUE TO SWEEP THE WORLD

Worcester, Feb. 13.—The ambition of Stanley Kelley, prominent business man, to "bring the youth of the entire world to an understanding which would bring about better international relations" was realized today with the beginning of the American Youth's League, an organization for young men.

Kelley, who "cleaned up" Greenwich Village some time ago, and Everett B. Price are leaders in the movement, which is being financed privately. They plan an international conference at Eastford, Ct., within a few months.

BEER DRINKING HAS SLUMP IN PRUSSIA

Berlin, Feb. 13.—Beer consumption is used as a barometer of business by the official Prussian Press Bureau. The quantity of beer consumed in Germany last November was only about half that of other months, says the bureau.

During the holidays business was quite brisk, but there was another slump in January, the beer halls feeling the pinch first and then the retail merchants.

MAKES HIS WIFE PAY FOR BABY'S SHOESTRINGS

"Meanest Man" Again Called to Court for Alleged Neglect of His Family

A husband who compels his wife to pay him 2 cents for shoestrings for the baby, who deducts $1.77 from her court-ordered allowance because he claimed she incurred an unauthorized laundry bill, and who wanted his family to live in furnished rooms because he could rent their apartment for $40 a month.

Mrs. Harry Gefen

This is Harry Gefen of Roxbury, $40,000 Elevated guard, characterized both by his wife, Eva, and her counsel, John F. McDonald, as "the meanest man in the world."

Today Mrs. Gefan once more was in Roxbury court, this time to apply for a warrant against Gefen, charging him with neglecting to provide for her and the two babies, Sumner, three, and Freddie, just a year old.

The warrant was granted by Judge Weston and Gefen will appear to answer the charge next Tuesday.

Mrs. Gefen told the court today that she had gone back to live with her husband since their last court disagreement, but that he forced her to leave the apartment because he intended renting it for $40 a month.

5 NEAR DEATH FROM FIRE IN DORCHESTER

Aged Woman, Mother and Baby Among Rescued at Codman Square

A seventy-five-year-old woman, a fifteen-months-old baby and three other persons were rescued by firemen early today in Dorchester, during a fire in a Codman square tenement house.

Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Sahaey, a daughter Yvonne, a son John and Sahaey's aged mother, Mrs. Helen Sahaey, were carried down two flights of stairs by firemen after being trapped and partially overcome by smoke in their tenement by the flames. They were revived in a nearby undertaking establishment.

The rescues were made by members of Ladder No. 29, headed by Lieutenant McGowan.

Damage to the building is estimated at $2,000. The owner is Dr. D. H. Dahl of No. 15 State street.

REPORT 60 SLAIN IN BAVARIA

Inhabitants of Pirmasens in Palatinate Resist Seizures by the Separatists

Berlin, Feb. 13.—Battles and mob violence were reported from all parts of the Rhineland palatinate this afternoon, following clashes between the Separatists and police at Pirmasen.

Scores were wounded in heavy street fighting at Kaiserlautern.

Duesseldorf, Feb. 13 (A.P.).—Eight Separatists and six of their attackers are reported to have been killed in Pirmasens, dispatches received here state, but the Mittag says telegrams from Kaiserslautern estimate the dead at more than sixty.

The Interallied High Commission today declared a state of siege in the Pirmasens district and ordered the dissolution of certain Nationalist organizations.

Dispatches say the leaders of those who attacked the government building had previously served an ultimatum upon the Separatists demanding that they evacuate the city by 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

The Separatists ignored the ultimatum and the attack was launched early last evening, continuing all night. Various buildings are still to have been taken by assault in bloody hand-to-hand fighting.

The besiegers finally set fire to the government buildings, known as the Bezirksamt, where most of the remaining Separatists had gathered.

Two companies of French troops have been sent from Coblenz to Pirmasens.

The interallied high commission has ordered the dissolution of the gymnastic societies at Pirmasens and a delegate of the commission has instituted strict regulations of street traffic.

That alone would be three billion dollars a year, 5 per cent. on sixty billions of dollars. Under intensive cultivation with irrigation and proper fertilizing, the thirty million unused acres of land in Florida would easily produce a net profit of five hundred dollars an acre, enough to pay off all public debt of the United States with ease in less than four years.

That is real wealth, and all that is required to develop it is more good population and capital.

Millions of good agriculturists that would eagerly come here from Italy and elsewhere should be welcomed with open arms, and helped to get a start, instead of being stopped at Ellis Island and turned back with strange stupidity.

FLORIDA, properly financed, would give useful work, prosperity, happiness and homes to tens of millions of new people. And what is true of Florida is true everywhere in the South; for that matter in the North, and especially in the Northwest.

THE GROWTH of the South within the last few years is the marvel of industrial and financial history. Southern bank resources exceeding eight thousand millions are 35 per cent. greater than in 1910. Capital invested in manufacturing has increased from three billions to over nine billions, in eight years.

THE FERTILITY of the South is shown in the fact that with only 35 per cent. of the country's acreage the South has produced 42 per cent. of the country's crop value.

THROUGHOUT the United States the increased value of mineral products has increased in value 428 per cent.

THE SOUTH invests its own money in Southern enterprises. It manufactures its own raw cotton. Spindles in Southern cotton mills have increased 69 per cent. since 1910. There are in the South almost a million more spindles than in all the rest of the United States put together. Once the South only grew raw cotton, sending it to Northern mills or to England to be made into cloth.

THE PRESENT and coming prosperity of the South interests all Americans, for every American's prosperity depends on this country's entire resources, upon the entire national wealth.

On the earth, today, it is each nation, each section for itself. Here between the Atlantic and the Pacific, between Mexico and Canada, the people of the United States have every climate, every product, every soil, every possible opportunity and every happiness.

Paste up on your desk instead of the frequent sign: "Life is just one damn thing after another," this, the truer statement:

"He hath not dealt so with any nation; and as for His judgments, they have not known them. Praise ye the Lord."

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about $1.

Pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine has a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are made of pine and syrups. The "syrup" is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. This makes a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, and tastes good.

You can feel it take right hold of a cough or cold. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

VANDERLIP RAPS RECENT SALE OF MARION STAR

Asks Where the $550,000 Came From That Bought Harding's Paper

Ossining, N. Y., Feb. 13.—In a scathing arraignment of public officials, delivered by Frank A. Vanderlip, financier and former president of the National City Bank, in a Rotary Club address, the banker criticised the recent sale of "a certain Marion newspaper."

"A certain Marion newspaper sold for $550,000, when it was well known to everyone that it was not worth half that sum," he said.

"Two young men of no financial standing purchased it. Everybody in Washington, including the newspaper correspondents, knows this, but no one wants to look under the edge of a shroud.

AN OPEN CHALLENGE.

"Where did the money come from? Where did it go?

"These are matters of public interest. The last administration stands challenged. We cannot wait for Congress or the courts, especially when we remember that Mr. Daugherty is Attorney-General."

Then the banker whirled into the Teapot Dome scandal. He attacked Senator Walsh's associates on the Senate investigating committee, saying several of them were undesirable investigators of any moral question.

"McAdoo testified," he went on, "that he was only acting as a reputable attorney for a reputable client in the oil matter, but, like any boy with stolen jam, he dropped that client immediately after the client had testified before the investigating committee.

AFRAID OF FALL.

"The Senate did not go further in investigating Secretary Fall because Fall was ready to 'peach,' and what he would have said would have gone into high places. They didn't dare."

There were other national scandals even more flagrant than Teapot Dome, he added, declaring the Veterans' Bureau has spent over $900,000,000 belonging to the wounded veterans," and that the Shipping Board had spent millions in the previous administration, "which, if not dishonest, was incredibly stupid."

He called upon President Coolidge to demand the resignations of Secretary Denby "and every other official besmirched in the public mind."

"All of these things are floating in the scum of Washington," he said. "What is the truth? We are entitled to know. It will demand courage in high places to find out. The President has got to say something. Silence will not answer. He must say something to make us continue to believe in his great integrity and moral courage, which we all think he has."

U. S. STILL SHY OF CONFERENCE PLAN

Washington, Feb. 13 (I.N.S.).—The suggestion of Premier MacDonald for a world economic conference after the completion of the present reparations inquiry in Berlin and Paris has aroused little interest here. It was stated that neither President Coolidge nor Secretary Hughes would be favorable to entering an international conference until it was distinctly agreed that there would be no efforts on the part of the European participants — principally France and Belgium — for a reduction of the big war debts to the United States.

According to a statement made at the Treasury Department today, it is now costing the American people approximately $300,000,000 annually to maintain the $7,000,000,000 unfunded foreign debt.

MUSSOLINI STAYS AWAY FROM LEAGUE

Rome, Feb. 13.—Premier Mussolini will not participate in the opening tomorrow of the League of Nations naval conference unless the plans are changed overnight. It is not known whether the conference will be open or closed.

DREAM OF LOVE LEADS PAIR TO COURT

Couple Are Held on Charge of Stealing Drug Store Goods Worth Thousands

Nathan Tobin and Sadie Brown live in Dorchester and have had dreams of the day when they could get married and have a little love-nest.

The method they took of bringing reality to their dreams, according to the police, landed them in Municipal Court today on the charge of stealing several thousand dollars' worth of goods from the United Consumers, Inc., No. 165 High street, a drug supply house.

Sadie was employed by the firm as a telephone operator. The police say she secured permission from her employers for her suitor to take some old boxes away from the drug house, to be used for firewood.

According to Inspectors Stephen Flaherty and Thomas Lyons, the couple went together in an automobile to the firm's storehouse and secured the wood, also taking several thousand dollars' worth of patent medicines, razor blades and other articles.

The plunder, the police say, the sweethearts sold to W. J. Clark of No. 1353 Beacon street, Brookline, receiving about half the value of the goods.

After hearing the evidence of the inspectors, the court fixed the bail of the girl, her sweetheart and Clark at $3,000 each for their appearance before the Superior Court.

The girl lives at No. 417 Seaver street, Dorchester, and Tobin at No. 72 Wheatland avenue, Dorchester.

JILTED PAIR TO FIND SOLACE IN MARRIAGE

Mrs. Coffin, Spurned by Count Salm, and George Burton Bethothed

By C. F. BERTELLI

Paris, Feb. 13 (Universal).—A sensation in society was caused here when the engagement was announced of society's favorite "jilteds," Mrs. Grace Sands Coffin and George Burton, New York.

Several years ago, it is related, George Burton sat in a barber's chair in New York and heard some gossiper tell of the elopement of Miss Demarest, whom he was scheduled to marry the next day. She ran away with Count Zichy in one of the famous romances that stirred international society.

SPURNED FOR HEIRESS.

Much more recently Mrs. Coffin awoke one morning in New York to learn that her fiance, Count Salm von Hoogstraeten, had eloped with and married a "forty million dollar heiress," Miss Millicent Rogers.

At this moment all the principals in these romances are in Paris.

"Austrian Counts were other parties in both the elopements through which we were jilted," said Burton, admitting his engagement to Mrs. Coffin. "Maybe that is why fate destined us to marry."

CONGRATULATED SALM.

At the same time it was learned that Mrs. Coffin has finally seen and talked to Count Salm since the latter came to Paris. "The Count followed Mr. Burton's car in which I was riding," said Mrs. Coffin. "He caught up with us and called to us to draw up. We shook hands and I congratulated him on his wonderful success."

She smiled dryly as she related the story of the meeting.

STOCKINGLESS ANKLES STIR PALM BEACH

Mrs. C. D. Chapin's "Nicely-Rounded and Naturally Pink" Limbs Make 'Em Gasp

Palm Beach, Feb. 13.—It's all right if "they" are "nicely rounded and naturally pink." Mrs. Charles D. Chapin's are—and that makes it perfect.

Mrs. Chapin's origin is Austrian. Her citizenship is American. Her dress and upbringing are entirely French. That's why she gave society a thrill at the Montmartre, Palm Beach, by appearing at the opening fete of the ultra-smart supper club wearing no stockings.

Exquisite silver and gold brocaded slippers with rhinestone buckles (this is the society reporter's description) were on her tiny feet. The transparent lace hem of her gown disclosed the shapely outlines of her upper ankles as she fox-trotted.

USED NO "MAKEUP."

Her ankles are "nicely rounded and naturally pink." She used no makeup on them before presenting them in public.

The upper stratum of Palm Beach society uttered a genuine gasp when they realized the ankles of the attractive Chicago matron were really devoid of their conventional covering.

But Mrs. Chapin at first appeared unconscious of the sensation she was creating. Then she expressed herself as "amazed."

"At Deauville, Biarritz, Dinard and all the seashore and country places in France, where I live most of the time, it is customary for women to go without stockings," she explained.

BUT IN BATHING.

"For three years women have gone stockingless if they chose—not in Paris, of course, but at seaside places where they wish to be cool and comfortable."

Mrs. Chapin will not dispense with hosiery while beach-bathing, however. Palm Beach bathing censors have decreed that stockings must be worn.

So now a question of ethics has arisen to trouble Palm Beach authorities: Can they permit a woman to go without stockings when garbed for the street, while requiring bathers to wear them?

Smart Set to Present 'Oh Boy' in Aid of Charity, Says Betty Alden

BY BETTY ALDEN

SILVER coins have a way of rolling into charity coffers by way of the thespian route these days.

When Mlindy determines to raise this or that sum for her particular philanthropy, she gathers about her a group of talented belles and beaux, the curtain rolls up, and the show is on!

Which is not only a negatively painless, but positively pleasant way of separating folk from their money.

A group of enterprising matrons headed by Mesdames S. Parker Bremer, Horace Morison and Timothee Adamowski are putting on three performances of the musical show "Oh Boy" for the benefit of the Massachusetts Association for Occupational Therapy, and the Disabled Ex-Service Men's Exchange.

There will be two matinee performances at the Tremont Theatre on March 3 and 4, as well as a midnight presentation on Tuesday, at the same theatre.

TALL and dark-haired Miss Grace Sargent, one of the best-looking of last year's debutantes, will have a leading part in "Oh Boy," as will Mrs. Morgan Butler and popular Miss "Roz" Adie.

Grace Sargent

Miss Sargent, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan of Brookline, has a penchant for wearing white, which is most becoming to her rich brunette coloring. She has a lovely contralto voice and the duet which she and little Frances Weld sang in last year's Vincent Club show was most enthusiastically applauded.

Mrs. Richard Saltonstall

Among the dashing society chorines for "Oh Boy" will be Mrs. Richard Saltonstall, Mrs. Morehead Patterson and Mrs. David Sears 3d (Nell White) of the young matrons as well as the Misses Helen Bayley, Mabel Holden, Peggy Warner, Anna Winslow, Louise Page, Edith Sturgis and Ruth Bremer.

IT was on board the Corsair that brown-haired Catherine Adams Morgan sailed on her honeymoon as the bride of Henry Sturgis Morgan.

The Corsair is the magnificent but graceful looking craft of young Morgan's father, J. Pierpont Morgan, who also chose as his life helpmeet a Boston belle, the former Miss Jane Grew.

Last week the Corsair sailed for the Mediterranean, where Mr. and Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan plan to join her—probably at Naples—toward the end of next month. They have mapped out a most delightful cruise.

Apropos of Mrs. Henry S. Morgan, she and her husband are coming on to Boston as guests of her parents for the dance which Mr. and Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Robert Homans are giving at the Chilton Club tomorrow evening. The affair is in honor of Miss Harriet Boyden and Miss Margaret Blake, two of the season's most feted buds.

Alkali In Soap Bad For the Hair
"USE MULSIFIED"

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo, which is pure and greaseless, and is better than anything else you can use.

Two or three teaspoonfuls is sufficient to cleanse your hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any drug store; it is inexpensive and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

STORIES LAUNCH ATTACK ON M'DONALD

Labor Premier Is Assailed for Permitting Excessive Dole to Poplar Jobless

London, Feb. 13 (I.N.S.).—The first attack of the opposition against Premier MacDonald opened in Commons today. The Ministry of Health was assailed for permitting the local government of Poplar—a metropolitan borough of London—to extend relief to unemployed persons in excess of the amount allotted to other districts. It was claimed this action would increase taxes.

There have been many unemployed fools at Poplar, which is generally regarded as the seat of Red extremism in England.

Former Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, opening the debate, indicated that the conservative opposition was unlikely to take any action that would hamper the MacDonald Cabinet in negotiating with France.

He said he gathered from the Premier's statement that Great Britain was in process of either negotiating or entering into fresh negotiations with France.

"And at a time like this," he added, "no opposition will willingly raise any question that might make the duty of the government more difficult."

The former Premier also expressed doubt if the "time has come when reconciliation of trade with Soviet Russia is possible."

He reproached Premier MacDonald "for believing a spirit of sweet reasonableness is going to bring European relief. He asked for information about the Russian debts, wanting to know what effect they would have upon allied war debts owing to Great Britain.

Foreign Office officials have amplified the Premier's reference to a proposed world conference in his speech of Tuesday. They said MacDonald would not make any decisive move towards convocation of an international conference until the reparations experts make their report upon Germany.

MacDonald and his colleagues are hopeful the attitude of General Charles G. Dawes, president of the First Reparations Committee, will make American participation in the proposed conference virtually certain.

Girls at Wellesley Eat Calories in Clusters

Wellesley College freshmen are doing well as regards calories. The freshmen learned today that they absorb 960 calories every day for lunch. Later in the day, just as an appetizer for dinner, many of the freshmen partake of a concoction which generations of Wellesley girls have survived, in spite of its formidable appearance.

This consists of cake, topped with ice-cream and covered with chocolate sauce, whipped cream and nuts—a total of 1,668 calories for the bill-bit. The calorie tables of foods eaten by Wellesley freshmen has been compiled by Miss Brush, freshman conference instructor.

MISSING GIRL SENDS WORD OF ELOPEMENT

17-Year-Old of Natick, R. I., Writes of Marriage to "Joe Walsh" in Boston

Boston police are seeking Ida De Cesare, seventeen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank De Cesare, No. 2 West street, Natick, R. I., who left home Monday.

After her parents had spent twenty-four hours in frantic efforts to find her, they received a letter mailed at the Hanover street station, Boston, in which Ida sent them "a sweet goodby" and told them not to spend their money hunting for her.

Ida De Cesare

"You need the money," she wrote. "I am married to Joe Walsh, and he can take care of me. We are going to California." She added that in later years she will pay them a visit.

They have offered a reward for her recovery, believing her story false.

Fashion Favors Colored Linens

We have never sold so many before so early in the season. These may be some of the reasons:

1. When subjected to the recent laboratory test of Lever Bros., famous manufacturers of Lux, many samples of colored linen from leading linen manufacturers of the world either shrank or faded. Our thirty-three samples of different colors did neither; they were the only samples so tested that did not.

2. Our linens are absolutely unshrinkable, being woven forty-six inches wide and brought down to thirty-six inches. Many so-called pre-shrunk linens are capable of much further shrinking. Pre-shrunk is not always unshrinkable.

3. These linens are woven from long staple fibre, which gives a smooth finish impossible to get in inferior fabrics. This makes the material soft after washing, which means that it is less easily crushed than the poor qualities. The effect of the thorough shrinking is also to keep it from crushing.

4. We guarantee that our colored linens will neither fade nor shrink. If it proves otherwise, we will replace not only the material but the cost of making also.

5. These linens cannot be found elsewhere in Boston for they are confined to us.

The price is $1.15 a yard.

Is there anything further we can say or do to convince you of our good faith and our utter confidence in these linens?

Ask to see the different colors—over thirty—you can't help liking them.

Is Your Wife Marooned During the Day?

Have you ever considered what is meant by the hundreds of cars parked in the business sections during working hours?

Most of them carried business men to work, leaving their wives and families at home, marooned because the family's one car is in daily use by the husband and father.

That is one reason why architects and builders now find that all suburban and many city homes must be provided with twin garages. The Chevrolet Utility Coupé with high-grade body makes an ideal extra car, especially in combination with a 5-passenger touring or sedan.

The wife finds it of every day utility for shopping, calling, taking the children to school in bad weather, etc.

Its price and upkeep are low yet the quality is high.

COURT HALTS HOLDUP CASE AS MISTRIAL

Hearing in Somerville Gas Station Robbery Brought to a Sudden End

Trial of Henry E. Keefe and Jeremiah Horgan in East Cambridge court, charged with the holdup and robbery of a gas station worker, was declared a mistrial today.

Trial only got under way late Monday and then only after prospective jurymen had been impanelled from the court house corridors.

Judge John F. Brown declared a mistrial at the opening of court because newspapers had printed stories of the defendants' recent trial on the charge of murdering a Boston policeman in Readville. They had been acquitted.

The present trial was for the alleged holdup of Charles Nelson, colored attendant in a Somerville gas station, who was beaten, kidnaped and robbed on West Boston bridge of $8.

The policeman, Joseph E. Gonya, was shot down by auto bandits some months ago.

Following today's procedure the men were taken back to East Cambridge Jail to await a new trial.

Maxim Wants Dry Agents to Ban Sale of Tea and Coffee

New York, Feb. 13.—Hudson Maxim, scientist and inventor, believes tea and coffee to be intoxicants within the meaning of the Volstead act, and threatens to bring suit to close cafes in which these beverages are served.

Hudson Maxim

He told the Freethinkers' Society that he first would ask the Federal authorities to act against the sellers of tea and coffee. Should they fail to do so, he said he would begin an action such as he would have a right to do against a saloon which the authorities would not raid and close.

Bang!

Louis was dented with a sandbag.

He fought, however, and the stranger fled. Police arrested several suspicious persons. They asked Louis to look them over. He did.

Out of the line he picked James Meskell of No. 21 Belknap street, Somerville, as his assailant.

In District Court, East Cambridge, Meskell was held in $5,000 for trial Tuesday.

The secretaries asked that a joint resolution be considered by Congress withholding the issuance of any further land patents to the Northern Pacific Company until there has been a full and complete inquiry.

FIGHT OVER 4-YEAR COAL WAGE SCALE

Jacksonville, Feb. 13 (I.N.S.)—The subcommittee, deliberating over a new wage scale for miners of the Central Competitive District, met in executive session today. The general committee has left all power of arbitration to this body.

The miners are asking for a continuance of the present wage scale with a four-year contract. Dissension is anticipated. Operators intimated that the same wage scale would be granted, but that the four-year contract would be opposed. They pointed out that this was too long a period for any wage scale to extend.

AUTO SHOW WILL OPEN MARCH 8

At the annual Boston Automobile Show, which opens in Mechanics Building, March 8 and continues until March 15, the public will have ample opportunity to examine and study three outstanding features which will be found in the cars exhibited.

Some of the models will have four-wheel brakes, some will have balloon tires, mostly as optional equipment, and others will have both four-wheel brakes and balloon tires. There also will be some new low-priced cars.

These represent the most striking innovations of the season and the Boston Show and also the Automobile Salon at the Copley-Plaza, open from Monday till Friday inclusive of the Show Week, will offer a very excellent opportunity to study the new models, as practically every car built in the United States will be exhibited, according to Manager Chester I. Campbell.

All types of four-wheel brakes will be shown, mechanical and hydraulic of both the internal expanding and external contracting styles. The public will learn the pro and con of this system of braking.

Balloon tires will also be discussed and shown and explained in detail—and then the customer makes his own decision as usual.

It is predicted that this will be the greatest automobile show Boston has ever seen.

NEW ROLLIN CAR HAS LATEST FEATURES

The new Rollin car which has just made its appearance in Boston, and which attracted marked attention at both the New York and Chicago Automobile Shows, is being demonstrated to interested motorists.

This car is brand new in the field, and has many engineering features copied from the latest in European design. The four bearing crankshaft is a new idea here and it is claimed that this goes far to eliminate the vibrations common to four-cylindered engines.

The car has four-wheel brakes and balloon tires and during the past week of slippery pavements it has made many interesting trips over Commonwealth avenue hill. Without chains the car could be stopped on the slippery hill and also went through snow where it would seem that even chains would not help. It gave a very convincing demonstration of power, flexibility and very easy riding qualities.

All Worn Out This Winter?

"Every Picture Tells a Story"

DOES winter find you lame, stiff and achy — worried all day long with nagging backache and sharp, rheumatic twinges? Do you feel worn-out, nervous and dispirited—older and slower than you should? Then you should be giving some attention to your kidneys. These wonderful little sponges filter every drop of blood in the body. But winter's colds and chills are apt to weaken the kidneys and weak kidneys allow poisons to accumulate in the life-giving blood, upsetting the whole bodily machinery. Then comes lameness, soreness and stiffness; daily backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness and distressing kidney irregularities. One feels constantly tired, nervous, depressed and utterly miserable. Don't risk neglect! Help your weakened kidneys with a stimulant diuretic. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have helped thousands. Are endorsed here at home. Ask your neighbor!

Read How These Boston Folks Found Relief:

MRS. MARTHA CORBIN, 19 Bennington St., East Boston, says: "My back was lame and when I got down I could hardly straighten. At each quick move sharp pains dug in deeper. I tired quickly and I was nervous, too. My kidneys acted too freely. Doan's Pills from Patton's Drug Store cured me and I have never been troubled since."

GEORGE KEIST, 51 Appleton St., says: "I was bothered with severe pains through the small of my back and I had to get up often at night, as my kidneys were disordered. I was troubled with headaches and spells of dizziness, too. I saw Doan's Pills advertised and three boxes knocked that pain out of my back and rid me of the other symptoms."

MRS. EDWARD McDONNELL, 430 E. Fifth St., South Boston, says: "A cold settled on my kidneys and the sharp pains in my back nearly drove me crazy. My kidneys acted irregularly and my feet bloated badly. I also had pains in the back of my head. Two boxes of Doan's Pills from Liggett's Drug Store cured me." (Statement given July 15, 1922.)

On October 8, 1923, Mrs. McDonnell added: "Doan's Pills cured me and I am glad to confirm my former statement."

House Probes Disappearance of $5,500 From Safe of Roads Board

Providence, Feb. 13.—Five members of a committee authorized by the House to investigate the theft of a $5,500 payroll from the safe of the State Board of Public Roads, were to be named today by Speaker Joslin, a resolution creating the investigating committee having passed in the House.

The $5,500 disappeared mysteriously from the safe two weeks ago, while the office force of the Public Roads Board was engaged in its daily tasks.

The action taken by the House followed receipt of a report from the finance committee, criticising the roads board for alleged lax methods in handling its cash; for not exercising due care in the preparation of the payroll, and for alleged negligence in permitting such a large amount of cash to be kept in the office safe.

DIDN'T SHOOT COP, ASSERTS GROSSMAN

In New York When McGillicuddy Was Laid Low, Says Defendant

Patrolman John J. McGillicuddy of the Roxbury station was shot down on the morning of October 8 last by one of two men he found larking in the shadows of the Lenox street car barns.

He had asked them what they were doing when one suddenly drew a gun and crumpled the patrolman with four shots in his body. He hovered between life and death at the City Hospital for weeks. Today, weak and drawn, he limped to the witness stand in Superior Criminal Court and testified that the man who shot him was William J. Grossman, a former poolroom proprietor at No. 240 Friend street.

Grossman was indicted, charged with shooting to kill, his trial beginning today before Judge McLaughlin and a jury.

Taking the witness stand after the weakened patrolman, he offered an alibi, testifying that he was in New York at the time of the shooting; had gone there on October 7, registering under the name of Gilbert at the Hotel Commodore. Patrolman McGillicuddy was shot at 3 o'clock on the morning of the 8th. Grossman said he boarded a Boston train at the Pennsylvania station, New York, at 3 o'clock that morning, arriving in Boston about six hours later.

Attorney John W. Connelly, his counsel, announced he would produce the conductor of the train and New York witnesses to support Grossman's alibi. Grossman denied police testimony that Patrolman McGillicuddy had identified him as his assailant at City Hospital.

"Police brought me there four times," he said, "and not once did this man make an identification."

Now loaf cheese has a new distinction

Everywhere fastidious housewives and famous chefs are asking how it is possible to get such delicious cheese!

Brought out only a short time ago the new cheese delicacy has already delighted particular people. They are serving it for luncheons, suppers, sandwiches—all the delightful bread and butter occasions.

Richer, creamier, Phenix Club Cheese has been a real sensation.

No wonder it has taught many people to like cheese who never cared for it before.

It is made in four varieties: American, Swiss, Pimiento, Brick.

Special soil in fertile valleys

Forty years ago the first Phenix Cheese was made in a fertile valley where particular properties in the soil produced a special milk. Today the Company is the largest and finest cheesemaker in America.

Now Phenix Club Cheese has been developed, the result of two generations of the cheesemaker's art. Its better flavor and appetizing package give a new distinction to familiar cheeses.

Try this richer, creamier cheese this very day. It is on sale at groceries, fine delicatessens, dairies.

LEWIS WILL HAVE TO STEP LIVELY
Strangler Lewis, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, will have to display all of his amazing ability when he collides with George Kotsonaros, Greek title holder, in a finish bout, best two falls out of three, at the Grand Opera House on Thursday night. Kotsonaros is the class as a title contender.

LOUGHRAN WINNER OVER WILSON IN TEN TORRID ROUNDS

PUNCHES TO JAW DID IT

By JACK CONWAY

Tommy Loughran, making his big play with right hand punches to the jaw, won over Johnny Wilson, former world's middleweight champion, after ten torrid rounds of battling at the Armory A. A.'s show at Mechanics Building.

It was a hard, gruelling contest. Loughran's superior physical advantages enabled him to gain the victory.

Loughran weighed 170 pounds, while Wilson scaled 161¼ pounds. Even a fighter of Wilson's ability cannot give away so much weight and expect to win. This is particularly true when it is taken into consideration that Johnny was opposed by a ring star who has conquered Harry Greb, world's middleweight champion, and Mike McTigue, world's light-heavyweight champion.

LOUGHRAN HAD SIX ROUNDS AND WILSON HAD THREE

Loughran had six rounds, Wilson three, while one was even.

Loughran is one of the best long range boxers in the world. His tremendous reach enabled him to hold Wilson at bay and when the opportunity presented itself he would clout with savage blows to the jaw.

Those persons who have claimed that Wilson has a glass jaw received a severe jolt. Johnny not only took Loughran's heavy smashes, but they aroused his fighting spirit and caused him to force his way to close quarters where he ripped healthy left and right-hand socks to the body.

Wilson, booed and jeered when he clashed recently with Pal Reed, was a hero with the fans. The dear old public is, indeed, a fickle thing.

Johnny was given an ovation when he entered the ring, when the weights were announced, the feeling was all the stronger for Wilson. On occasions when the boxers clinched, some remarks as "Push the big heavyweight back," were directed at Loughran.

CAN DRAW CAPACITY CROWD AGAINST MALONE OR BOGASH

Although defeated, Wilson can return to Boston and draw a capacity crowd against Jack Malone, Tommy Robson or Lou Bogash. The fans would now like to see Johnny in action against a man of his own weight.

One of the largest crowds to ever jam Mechanics Building for a boxing match was on hand for the festivities. The fact that it was felt that Loughran had a chance to win tended to create additional interest in the bout.

At post time, the betting was 10 to 9 Wilson and even money. Earlier Loughran had been a favorite.

FELIX KING KNOCKS OUT JACK DILLON IN TWO

In the semi-final, Felix King of Manchester, N. H., outweighing Jack Dillon by ten pounds, won by a kayo in two frames. King dropped his lighter opponent to the canvas three times in the second session. A towel tossed from Dillon's corner then ended the contest.

Cannonball Dixon of Providence was awarded the decision over Walter Lee of Denver after a spirited eight-session contest. The milling was fairly close.

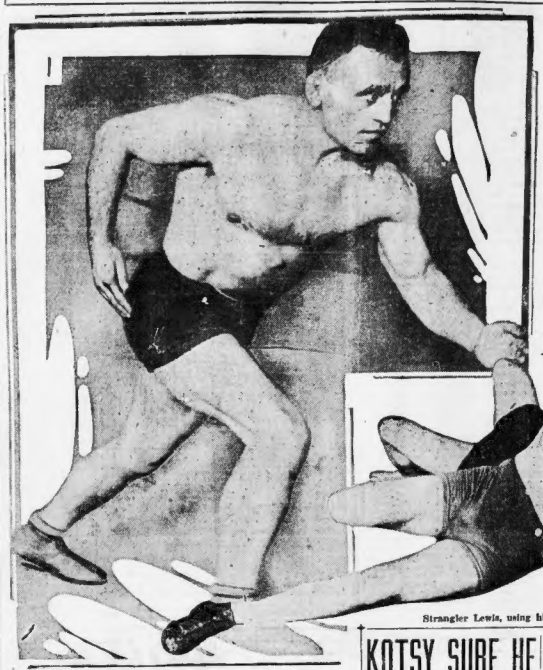

George Crobons of Peabody stopped Mickey O'Neil of Jamaica Plain in a round.

Jack Sheehan refereed the final bout, while Jerry Moore was master of ceremonies in the preliminaries. W. T. McDermott and Pat Moran acted as judges.

More than 8,000 persons saw the show.

South Shore fans will have to be satisfied with one game tonight. Randolph is booked to travel to Brockton and play the Okos of the Fair City.

EASTMAN WILL TRY SHOT PUT SATURDAY

A bothersome leg injury, sustained during the football season, will not precent Charles Eastman, husky football tackle, from competition in the triangular shot putting competition against Cornell and Dartmouth at Mechanics Building Saturday night.

The Nebraska giant has tuned up this week and more than once in practice he has put the iron ball more than forty-three feet without his "hop." When he tried the hop his best effort was a couple of feet shorter.

Eastman hopes to get in a good "hopless" put that will improve the present record of 42 feet 10 inches.

KOTSY SURE HE CAN DEFEAT 'STRANGLER'

George Kotsonaros, the Greek title-holder, doesn't object to Ed Strangler Lewis' manager taking a place in his corner to coach.

"That will not help him a bit," said Kotsy. "He will be the only one on the mat with me, and I am able to take care of myself."

Marie Traivaska

Lewis didn't have Sandow in his corner to coach him in the old days. In fact, Sandow didn't want to coach him.

However, in their trip to Europe last summer Lewis met Princess Marie Traivaska, a former Russian princess, at Waishaden. Sandow did all he could to discourage the couple. However, the more he tried to discourage Ed the more he fell in love with the princess.

A little later their engagement was announced. Since that time Lewis and his manager haven't got along any too well.

Lewis wants to return to Europe and Sandow objects as it means the loss of a lot of money to him.

Lewis has been so preoccupied over the future that he neglects his work.

Sandow imagines that the champion is thinking of the princess and will forget himself so far as to lot some one slip a hold on him and it will be curtains for his meal ticket. He stays in Ed's corner all the time to try to keep him alive to the situation.

This is the real story why Billy Sandow coaches Ed in all his big matches.

One thing is sure and that is Ed should not take his mind long off his match with Kotsonaros on Thursday night or there will be a new world's champion crowned at the Grand Opera House. Kotsy is quick to take advantage of every opening and should Lewis make just one little slip it will be good night for him.

George Farmer Bulley, who has camped on the trail of Stanley Stasiak for some time, will appear on the card in a one fall finish fray.

Angelo Taramaschi, Italian champion, will meet Christo Gustavo, Swedish heavyweight. Taramaschi is in wonderful trim at present.

THOUSANDS GET FIGHT STORY BY RADIO

Thousands of boxing fans in all parts of the country listened in on the Wilson-Loughran bout as sent from the ringside at Mechanics Building over the Shepard's Store Station. The story of the bout was sent by Jack Conway, boxing editor of the Boston American.

A special sending apparatus was installed in the press row at the ringside. Telephone wires connected the sending apparatus with the Shepard's Store Station.

As each blow was struck, Mr. Conway dictated into the sending apparatus. His description of the bout was carried instantly to the Shepard's Store broadcasting station and then out into the world, where an anxious public was awaiting the outcome of the ring classic.

Philadelphia and New York fans, as well as those in distant New England points, were particularly interested in the tussle between Wilson and Loughran.

Mechanics Building, one of the finest auditoriums for boxing in America, offered a splendid spot for those who were fortunate in obtaining tickets for the contest as every seat commands an excellent view of the ring.

General Manager Easterbrook of Mechanics Building gave his full cooperation in making it possible for boxing fans, unable to see the bout, to get Mr. Conway's expert account of the contest.

A half hour after the bout, Mr. Conway received the following telegram from Jack Bulger, manager of Mickey Walker.

"Listened in on the Wilson-Loughran bout at Newark, N. J. As usual, your selection won. Keep sending us the radio story of the big bouts in Boston."

SIEGAL STARTS AGAINST JOE PANGRAZE

Nate Siegal, the popular Revere battler, will get started again at Lynn next Monday night, when he meets Joe Pangrase of Quincy at the Casino A. C. Nate has been training faithfully for the past two months and says that the long rest has done him a world of good and he is now in the best condition of his career.

Nate Siegal

The Revere boy is one of the most satisfactory performers ever developed around Boston and he never ducked an opponent no matter how tough he was. Whenever the matchmakers of the different Boston clubs wanted a boy to try out some new comer in the welterweight division Siegal was generally given the assignment as they knew that no matter how tough the newcomer might be Siegal would give him a battle, win or lose.

It looks as if the Lynn club was starting in where the others left off. Pangraze is one of the toughest and roughest boys of his weight around these parts. He is a sturdy, two-fisted fighter and the tougher his opponent is the better he likes them. He does not fear any man of his weight, and Seigal must be in tip top condition, or his attempted come back is likely to be his finish.

The Lynn fans know Pangraze well, as it was at the Casino that the Quincy battler knocked out Jack Dillon of Woburn after the Boston college boy had defeated every opponent that he had met there.

Frankie Marna of South Boston, and Lefty Williams of Lowell will meet in the semi-final.

Jack Conway Picked Loughran to Win Over Wilson

Jack Conway, holder of the world's record for picking winners, once more gave the fans the right dope when he named Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia to win over Johnny Wilson in their ten-round bout at the Armory A. A.'s show at Mechanics Building.

The Boston American Boxing Editor declared that Loughran's superior weight and heavy punching power would enable him to offset Wilson's body smashes. That's just what happened.

Jack has picked twenty-six winners out of a possible twenty-nine this year.

MAPLES TAKE A BEATING FROM 'BOSTON'

The Maple team took a sound trouncing from the Boston Hockey Club, 6 to 0, at the Arena in a league game.

Little hockey was played and the fans were disappointed with the poor show of the Maples.

Bright, Hutchinson and Owens were the stars for Boston. Drowne did sensational work in the cage. He time and again stopped the disc sent at him by Hughes, Williams, Morrison and Fisher.

George Owen

Hutchinson was the big scorer. He got half of the six points scored by the Boston Hockey Club, while Owens was credited with two and Bright one.

The winning sextet got to work early in the contest and scored in two minutes and thirty-nine seconds.

BASEBALL CONTRACTS CLUTTER MAIL FOR BOSTON CLUBS

LEE ASKED FOR MORE MONEY

By NICK FLATLEY

Baseball contracts clutter the Boston mails, just like valentines, these days, and it will not be many more minutes before all the Boston athletes, as you might call them, are signed.

There aren't any serious holdouts with either of our baseball outfits, which shows pretty well that the owners are bighearted chaps.

Lee Fohl

Personally, we'd figure that some of the boys owed us a year's free service after the way they've performed in the last couple of seasons. And that ain't maybe.

The magnates, though, are starting with a brand new deck and naturally expecting a much better deal. All the diamond heroes, practically, have been raised a bit, even down to the pitchers, whose winning returns looked like the first couple of problems in simple addition. One plus one equals two, etc., is what we mean.

Dudley Lee, whose name sounds like the title of one of those Southern melodies or something, hasn't hitched up with the Red Sox yet, but he will. He never did make any declarations about taking his $50,000 self right away from the pastime.

Dave Bancroft

He merely wrote a very polite and friendly epistle to President Quinn and objected to the fact that what he had been offered wasn't what you could call any increase on last year's minor league returns. Then President Bob, who knew that, wrote another letter and the accepting answer is due at the Fenway any of these days.

* * *

The clubs are now getting the telegrams from the few chaps, who screeched loudly for more dough. The rookies think that's a part of the midwinter procedure. No answers are sent to these babies, and when the training time approaches they begin to get nervous, and wear out the brogans trotting down to the village post office. After shooting in a couple of wires, the hopefuls modestly concede that they will accept the first terms offered, and that's that.

President Quinn and Lee Fohl both expect a lot of Oscar Fuhr, a big Mobile left hander, whose contract has come in. Oscar knocked 'em all dead last season in the South, and both Fohl and Quinn treckked down to look him over.

He was up once before, with the Cubs, but needed seasoning. The scouts all admit that he has everything now. Fuhr was pitching down in Cuba early in the Winter, but retired when the Red Sox boss advised him to do so. None of the big leaguers like to have their stars keep at the game all Winter, though it's hard to stop them.

Adolph Luque.

It's a certainty that the Cincinnati Reds are worrying themselves blue about Senor Adolpho Luque, who led the National League flingers' last season. The Senor was naturally a hero in his native Cuba, and as soon as the season was over signed right up to show the boys down there just how he did it. Result—sore arm.

* * *

Those Reds have a wonderful chance to cop a pennant this approaching campaign—but they're out if the Senor has any trouble with his souper. Which shows as well as anything the folly of letting million dollar arms go bankrupt in the off season.

DARTMOUTH TEAM TO PLAY IN NINE GAMES

Hanover, N. H., Feb. 13.—Dartmouth's baseball team, which makes the annual invasion of the South just previous to Spring vacation, will play nine straight games, according to the completed schedule released by the athletic council today.

Opening against Georgia Tech at Atlanta, March 28, Coach Tessreau's men play two contests for their first outdoor training work.

On March 31 they will line up against Jim Robertson's Ogelthorpe nine at Atlanta, journeying to Macon for two games with Mercer, April 1 and 2, and returning to Atlanta for the second Ogelthorpe contest April 3.

Athens will be the scene of two encounters against the University of Georgia, April 4 and 5, with New York University closing the training trip for the Green in New York, April 7.

TWENTY REPORT FOR GREEN BALL TEAM

Hanover, N. H., Feb. 13.—Preparations for Dartmouth's baseball season began when twenty men reported to Coach Jeff Tesreau for preliminary battery practice on the basketball floor of the alumni gymnasium.

Easy workouts will prevail for a few days. More men will augment the squad as soon as basketball and track end.

HARVARD PLAYS THE UNICORNS TONIGHT

Harvard will tackle Princeton here next Monday night. To be right for the Tigers Coach Winsor will send the Crimson against the B. A. A. at the Arena tonight.

Jerry Geran

The Unicorn plays a style of game that should bring out all the good hockey the Crimson knows. It is very likely that the B. A. A. will present a three-man defense to give Harvard experience for its next Yale encounter. It was the Eli's form of three men ahead of the net that ruined Harvard's attack Saturday.

Both the B. A. A. and Harvard are in the midst of their toughest part of the season. The Unicorn has a merry battle on its hands in the Eastern division of the United States League, while the Crimson has sunk below the surface once in its Big Three fight.

It seems as if every native of Prince Edward Island who lives in Greater Boston has expressed a desire to see the Aberweits of Charlottetown, P. E. I., play Boston College Friday, and the B. A. A. Saturday night.

The Saturday night game with the B. A. A. has the Boston Hockey Club-New Haven league game to strengthen it in a twin bill.

Interest in the Boston College-Abegweits game Friday night is at a high pitch. The P. E. I. boys have a much higher rate than the University of New Brunswick, which defeated B. C. Any time Boston College takes on a team that appears to have a chance to defeat the Eagles the Maroon and Gold followers flock to the Arena.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

Rub on Good Old Musterole

That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once.

Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, does the work without blister.

Just rub it on with your fingertips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder forms for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

DARTMOUTH THE FAVORITE IN TRIANGULAR

Dartmouth is the favorite in the triangular track and field meet with Harvard and Cornell at Mechanics Hall on Saturday night. The Dartmouth team is strong where the other teams are weak.

The Green is formidable in the two-mile run, in which Winthrop Nazro of Winthrop in the final trials was within a second of the track record at Hanover, and actually shaded the present record of 9:53 2-5, which Bob Brown of Cornell set two years ago.

Dartmouth is weak in the mile, high jump and weights, but the only outstanding jumper on the rival squads is Doppell of Cornell, who will compete under stage conditions.

Harvard is hopelessly out of the race for pole vault points, but this may be evened by the fact that the Cornell team is below par in the broad jump and two-mile run.

Considering its strength in the distance runs over a stretch of many years, it will be a strange sight to see Nazro of Dartmouth and Byron Cutcheon and Leo Ryan of Harvard as likely pace-setters in the long race.

The Dartmouth starters in the various events were forwarded to Manager A. C. Bickford of Harvard and the names are announced as follows:

Forty yards—Edgar Fiterman, Colladays, McDavitt, Crawford; hurdles—Bugbee, Maroney, Merrill; 300 yards—Colladay and Simmons or McDavitt; 600 yards—Bates, Hill; 1000 yards—Letteney, Crawford; mile—Jerman, Collins; two miles—Nazro, Osgood, Winsor; high jump—McFadden, Edgar, Garretson; broad jump—Canfield, Garretson, Rogers; pole vault—Libbey, Skiles, Barker; weights—Oberlander, Murphy, Parker, Hatch; relay—Blodgett, Bates, Simmons and Colladay.

SCHOOL SPORTS AT LAWRENCE NIGHT HIGH

By FRED C. LANE

A novelty that will give impetus to scholastic sports has been adopted at Lawrence. The idea of developing a track team of night school scholars is the idea that Principal Dennis Callahan has offered to the fans of the Mill City.

Fred Tootell

The team will be coached by John Danahy, former Bates college four letter man who while attending the Maine university was a star on the track. Danahy is a teacher at the night high and when informed of the plan indorsed the idea and started to work with the candidates immediately.

The Woodbine Five of Pawtucket would like to book games away from home with 150-pound teams in New England. For games write to Thomas Conroy, No. 80 Main street, Pawtucket.

SHORT SHIP TO HOLD BANQUET TONIGHT

By GUS DALY.

Light harness racing enthusiasts will come into their own tonight and also during the day, for at 6 p. m. the Tenth annual banquet of the Bay State Short Ship Circuiters will be held at the Copley Plaza. According to Chairman John Roxy, who has handled the details of this affair, it will be bigger and better than ever before. Plates have been set for 750, which surpasses all previous records.

Some notable speakers are on the program, with some excellent entertainers also scheduled to drive all care to the winds.

Horsemen from all parts of New England with a few from the South and West are bound to make the banquet one long to be remembered.

Senator Hagias and Judge Irwin will have a word or two to say regarding the good standing of the light harness racing sport as it has been conducted since the Bay State Circuit has been on the map.

The Bay State Convention opened at 10 a. m. and the season's program was arranged.

In the afternoon the Twelfth annual meeting of the New England Agricultural Fairs Association was held. Alfred F. Foote, Commissioner of Public Safety, was one of the speakers.

REDS ABANDON IDEA OF A TRIP TO CUBA

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 13.—President August Herrmann of the Reds, who is in New York at the National League schedule meeting, has announced that the proposed plan to take the Reds to Havana, Cuba, this Spring has been called off.

Cuban promoters, the report stated, have been trying to induce Herrmann to take the team from the training camp in Florida to Havana for two games with the champions of the Cuban League.

RIOT CALL FOR FIGHT OVER LOVING CUP

New York, Feb. 13.—A loving cup led to battling and a police riot call. Twenty members of the Side Wheelers, a Brooklyn social club, left a dance at which they, as hosts, had awarded themselves the silver cup for providing the largest attendance. They were rushed by others protesting the award. Bricks were hurled and three men hurt. All reunited when ten police charged into the fray and the bluecoats had to threaten to shoot. The loving cup was smashed by a brick.

'S1,200 GIRL' TO MAKE TAILOR 'PAY PLENTY'

Mary Nardini Answers Charges Made by Employer; Is Held in $1,500

"He is going to have to pay for this, and he will have to pay plenty," declared Mary Nardini, nineteen years old, No. 14 Glen street, Somerville, accused by Antonio Trangone, a tailor of No. 62 Court street, Boston, of the theft of $1,200.

"I never took a cent from Trangone. I didn't even know he had $1,200," she said indignantly.

According to Trangone, on whose complaint the girl was secretly indicted for larceny and held in $1,500 bail, the girl asked him for candy one afternoon while working in his shop. He said he told her to get the candy from his coat pocket.

Mary, he said, came across a roll of twelve $100 bills, and asked if she might take it home "just to show the folks." Tragone said he complied with her request, but that when she came to work the next day she had apparently forgotten all about the money.

"I went into a store," said Mary, "and there met Tragone. He was selling candy and told me I could get some out of his overcoat. I got the candy, but I didn't see any money.

"The first thing I knew he had lost any money was when he came to my home with the police three days later. If he thought I took the money, why did he wait three days before accusing me?"

Miss Nardini was held in $1,500 after a court hearing.

Stubborn Coughs

Stop Quick With Home Made Cough Mixture

USE PARMINT

Not until you make your own cough mixture—a half pint of it for a small sum—will you know how easy it is to stop any bad persistent cough as if by magic.

It's pleasant-tasting, but that don't stop it from knocking out a cough quicker than anything else in the world. Children love it.

Get from any druggist one ounce of Parmint (double strength)—to this add a little granulated sugar and enough water to make one half pint—that's all there is to it.

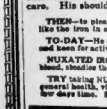

This loosens the phlegm, stops the irritation, allays the inflammation, cleans out clogged nostrils, makes breathing easier, and causes sore throat and hoarseness to disappear.

With speed almost beyond belief this home made cough mixture stops the toughest hang-on cough, and all because in it there is a substance (too costly for ordinary cough syrups) that immediately covers the membrane like a soothing, healing poultice and blessed relief comes at once.

And it is always worth while to bear in mind that any remedy that overcomes catarrh, partially or wholly, is bound to be of benefit to those who are troubled with head noises and catarrhal deafness.

Get Parmint and get better.

FINDS NEW WAY TO MAKE A WILD CAT

Fitchburg Trapper Collects $5 Bounty, Which Starts a Learned Feline Discussion

Fitchburg, Feb. 12.—The old-fashioned way of making a cat wild was to pull its tail. Any feline that wouldn't get wild when its tail was pulled was a spineless sort of creature.

However, up in Fitchburg they have a new way to make a common, ordinary tomcat wild. Clip his ears. Not only does it make the cat wild, but it nets the clipper $5—if he gets away with it. It's a trick in the same class with that of the Passamaquoddy Indians who made seals' "tails" out of the pelts and collected a number of "tail bounties" on each seal.

A supposed wildcat was caught in Malcolm Mackenzie's cellar on Alpine road three days ago. Harley G. Bowen, maker of the trap, collected the bounty of $5 from City Clerk Herbert G. Morse. So far, so good.

But the "wildcat" was placed on exhibition in the Rollstone Grain Company's store. The controversy began. Old trappers declared it was a common, ordinary house Tom cat. Others claimed it was a wildcat.

Game Warden James A. Peck was given the delicate job of referee and he ruled it the house variety. Just to clinch his argument he took the cat to the State Department of Conservation in Boston, where officials declared it to be a Tom cat, whose ears and tail someone had clipped to make it look wild.

The trapper, Bowen, still says it is a wildcat.

REBEL BANDS ARE PURSUED IN MEXICO

Obregon Troops Follow Up Recent Victories; Vera Cruz Is Rid of Insurgents

Mexico City, Feb. 12 (A.P.).—Nothing is officially known of operations on the western front except information contained in a ciphered message from General Obregon to the War Department in which hope is expressed that the Federal cavalry has defeated the rebels under Generals Dieguez and Estrada, who marched upon Penjamillo when they learned of the defeat inflicted on the rebel forces at Cocilan.

Forty-five hundred men are reported to have been sent in pursuit of Dieguez and Estrada.

Federal Generals Frios and Rodrigues are continuing their advance on Morelia, and the belief is expressed that Michoacan will be the scene of further fighting if the rebels are willing to give battle.

Minister of War Serrano has arrived at Vera Cruz and declared the port officially occupied by the Federals. He has ordered active pursuit of rebel generals who have evacuated the city, and is known to be laying plans for an active campaign against marauding bands in Southern Puebla. General Gonzales is already engaged in an anti-rebel drive in this State.

Simple Home Treatment for Sore Throat

Raw, Sore, Inflamed Throats Can Be Greatly Relieved by Use of this Vaporizing Salve.

Here is a simple yet effective method to treat a sore throat. Gargle with warm salt water three times daily. Also swallow slowly every few hours a teaspoonful of Vicks.

At night apply Vicks over the throat and upper chest, rubbing well in. Then spread on thickly and cover with a warm flannel cloth.

The body heat releases the ingredients—Menthol, Camphor, Eucalyptus, Juniper Tar, etc.—in the form of vapors and these vapors, inhaled all night long, go directly to the affected parts.

At the same time Vicks is absorbed thru and stimulates the skin like a liniment or plaster, drawing out the soreness and pain.

Vicks is equally good for hoarseness, tonsilitis, head and chest colds, and for the croupy colds of children.

Insurance Salesman tells experience with REM

It's the business of an insurance man to point out the importance of the "stitch in time."

Mr. James H. Stewart represents a Pittsburgh insurance company, and lives there at 331 Dunlap Ave., N. S.

Here's how he "writes his own cough insurance":

"We have bought one bottle of REM after another these past three winters. I have recommended it to friends and it certainly has done the work. I have taken it myself a few times for slight coughs; my wife for bronchial coughs; my daughter, son-in-law and grandson. It has been good in every case. I first got hold of it from a cousin who heard me coughing and told me to take it. It's fine and I'm glad to recommend it."

The surprising popularity of REM is due very largely to grateful users who have passed the good word along.

REM contains a special ingredient (too expensive for old-style, slower-acting cough syrups) that makes it cling to your throat as you swallow. Spreading over the sore, inflamed membranes in a soothing, healing film, it quickly quiets the cough.

REM is pleasant to take. And it contains no Opiates.

Your druggist has REM—ask him for it. You can have your money back if it doesn't help you. You're the Judge and Jury.

SEIZE $100,000 RUM IN FALL RIVER

SHIPPED IN FREIGHT CARS

Cargo Billed as Washing Machines Grabbed by Federal Agents in Raid

Fall River, Feb. 13.—Two freight cars sidetracked in the New Haven railroad yards near the Fall River Line dock and consigned to Chicago as containing washing machines and printing presses proved to be laden with high grade imported liquors, valued at from $50,000 to $100,000, when Federal agents raided the cars and seized the contents.

The shipment was said to have included between 700 and 800 cases of alcohol, Scotch and rye, believed to have been imported and landed on the Rhode Island shore.

The seizure was made by Agents Howard G. Williams and Jeremiah Sullivan, both of Boston, and Benjamin B. Mullen of Fall River.

Agent Williams declared he conducted the raid on orders from Boston. The identity of the persons sending the liquor and those to whom it was consigned will be learned this morning when the bills of lading will be examined, he said.

The liquor was taken from the freight cars and placed in five trucks of the Keough Transportation Company, which were to have transported the goods to government ware houses in Boston this morning.

WOMAN, 102 FIGHTS GAS POISON

Overcome by Fumes, but Vitality May Save Her, Doctors Say

Mrs. Mary Simmons, 102 years old, was overcome by gas while locked in her home at No. 51 Jackson street, North Cambridge, and is on the danger list at the Cambridge City Hospital.

The woman, despite her great age, has wonderful vitality and doctors at the hospital say she has more than an even chance of recovery.

A granddaughter, who had gone to the grocery store, discovered the door locked upon her return. This was not unusual as the woman was afraid of intruders. When she failed to respond to the repeated knocking the girl became alarmed and peered into the kitchen window.

She saw her grandmother lying on the floor.

The girl ran screaming for help. James Logan, a neighbor, living at No. 43 Jackson street, ran to the house and broke open the door.

It was found that a rubber gas pipe leading to the kitchen stove had become disconnected the fumes overcoming the woman before she could open a door or window.

DR. FRANK CRANE ON THE VALUE OF YOUR LIFE

By Dr. Frank Crane

THE children used to play a game on this wise. Bring the tips of the fingers of one hand against those of the other, except the two longest fingers, the middle fingers, of which you bring the knuckles together, bending them down. Now name thumbs your father or mother, the first finger your brother, and the little finger your sister, and the ring fingers the girl who is your sweetheart. Then it will be found you can separate any of the pairs, always without separating the meeting knuckles, except the ring fingers, which you are powerless to separate. That is to say, you can leave anybody but your Junespice; whereat you are laughed at, and rallied and there is in the company much merriment, which, thanks be! comes easy when human beings have not reached twenty-one.

Do this childish trick now with your fingers, and let me take occasion to interpret it into life; that is to say to remind you that you can tell best what you love most by seeing what you are most unwilling to part with.

"Life," exclaims Ruskin, "some of us are ready enough to throw that away, joyless as we have made it. But 'Station in Life'—how many of us are ready to quit that?"

Almost daily we see in the newspapers accounts of those who have thrown life away. Despair and suicide are common enough.

The reasons given for despair are curious. One man has lost all interest in life because he has lost his money, another because he has been disgraced, another because he has been thwarted in love. All of them value the trappings of life more than life itself.

Is it not strange that some would rather go to their death than move from a palace to a hut? Is it not strange that a man says that he has been "ruined" when he has to give up his three automobiles and ride in the street car? Is it not strange that a woman should not want to live any more when she must let her army of servants go and wait on herself and cook her own meals?

It is well enough to like the good things of life, the accoutrements and privileges that success may bring, but the greatest of tragedies comes when we value these things more than life itself.

Whoever enjoys mere living, existence, to breathe the refreshing air and look upon the pleasant sun, to eat and sleep, hope and strive and travel, and, best of all, to love—all of which things can be done without a cent in one's pocket or without being elected to any office—in other words, whoever believes in Life, loves Life and appreciates Life, is the wisest of mortals.

If You Want to Live Longer Than the Average—Save

It's Simple. SAVE MONEY. Be Independent.
WORRY Is What Kills

Copyright, 1924, Star Co.

Mr. Samuel S. Hall, associate actuary of the big Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, reveals the fact that people purchasing annuities in life insurance companies live longer than they might reasonably be expected to do, according to statistics and the figures of those that keep track of such things in the most scientific manner.

Purchasers of annuities, as you probably know, are men and women that, having a certain amount of money, buy an annuity. They pay so much every year, or they pay a lump sum down, and the company agrees to pay them a definite income every year, as long as they live, NO MATTER HOW LONG THEY LIVE.

If you are fond of life, it ought to interest you to know that a man with an annuity, which means A REGULAR INCOME FOR THE REST OF HIS LIFE, lives longer than the average human being.

He lives longer because he WORRIES less.

He knows that the money will be THERE; that his board and lodging, his clothes and carfare will be PAID FOR as long as he meanders up and down on this earth.

Being free from worry, his heart acts normally. He does not poison his brain and intestines with the poison of anxiety that ends so many lives prematurely.

To live long, live FREE OF WORRY, free of constant self-questioning as to what will happen if things go wrong.

Buy an annuity if you like; that's one way. It's a good deal better, however, to arrange independence on a different basis and have something to leave to those that come after you.

When a man buys an annuity the whole thing ends when he is dead.

Above all, SAVE AND KEEP SOMETHING.

As you go along put something by. A regular income to last all your life is a good thing. But even a few thousand dollars, saved up, put away in the savings bank, within easy reach, or invested in good government or other absolutely safe bonds, will keep you free and make you live longer.

USE GLASS BEDROOM FOR OXYGEN TESTS

London, Feb. 13.—In order to test the life-saving powers of oxygen in certain diseases, experiments are being carried out at one of the London hospitals with a glass bedroom hermetically sealed. In this bedroom persons are kept for five days in an atmosphere which contains 40 to 60 per cent. of oxygen, or double the amount present in the ordinary air. Persons suffering from respiratory disease have experienced relief for some days in the tests.

LEICESTER CHIEF IS HELD ON RUM CHARGE

Worcester, Feb. 13.—Chief of Police James A. Quinn of Leicester was arraigned in Superior Court here today on an indictment charging him with violating his oath of office by failing to enforce the liquor laws. Chief Quinn pleaded not guilty and was released on nominal bail.

RAP ROADS ON 60-TRIP TICKETS

Public Deliberately Fleeced by Their Sale, Declares Representative Kelleher

Charges that there is an element of misrepresentation on the part of Massachusetts railroads in selling the 60 trip, or monthly, or workingman's ticket, were made before the Railroad Committee at the State House, today when Rep. John A. Kelleher and John R. Dexter presented petitions to change the selling of these tickets.

It was claimed that the roads are selling sixty trip tickets knowing full well that Sundays, holidays, etc., cut the actual use of these tickets way below sixty rides.

People using the tickets are n[illegible] ... not getting their full sixty rides and the petitioners who a[illegible] that many of the commuters used only fifty rides out of the "possible" sixty each month.

DON'T USE 60 RIDES.

They asked that the life of these tickets be extended by application of riders or that a sixty-trip ticket be used for forty days or a fifty-trip ticket for thirty days.

They stressed the point that they were not arguing against the rates charged by the roads, but were protesting against the element of misrepresentation in the selling of the tickets.

J. R. Fernald, Jr., representing the New York Central, said that although he opposed the petition he could understand the resentment of ticket owners in having left over each month a certain number of tickets they apparently could not use.

He thought that if the life of the sixty-trip ticket was extended it was to be expected that there would be an increase in the cost of the ticket.

"JOSHED" BY FELLOW-WORKERS, KILLS SELF

South Deerfield, Mass., Feb. 13.—Because his fellow workmen in a local tobacco shop had "joshed" him about being deported to Russia, John Banaszek, thirty-eight, hanged himself early today. Before doing so he wrote a note to his wife which said, "Good bye, I'm going to Russia." His body was found later suspended from a beam.

WIFE SAYS HUSBAND BEAT HER

Mate Shows Photo of Spouse in a Man's Arms as Evidence in Divorce Suit

Came a sudden surprise today at a divorce hearing in Superior Court before Judge Hall.

Marion Sliney, petite and pretty, had testified to alleged brutality of her husband, Peter J., who, she said, after marrying her in Boston, took her on an "extensive honeymoon" to Lynn.

She said he had beaten her and was so jealous of her he had followed her when she shopped for groceries. She also said he never worked from the day they married, getting what little income he could by the process of bootlegging.

Her mother, Mary Weller, with whom they lived at No. 64 Bennett street, Jamaica Plain, testified to her son-in-law's alleged [illegible] and brutality.

Then rose Sliney with a general denial and out of a clear sky offered a photograph entered as evidence which revealed his wife in an automobile beside a gentleman who sat with an arm about her.

"A friend I have known since he was three years old," was Mrs. Sliney's rebuttal evidence.

She seeks divorce on the ground of cruel and abusive treatment.

Flora Finch, Once a Star With Bunny, Now Movie Extra

Los Angeles, Feb. 13 (Federal)—The imprint of fortune's fickle finger lies perhaps most d[illegible] on the people whose shadows flit across the silver screen. Fortunes in extravagant salaries are made one day, and the wind of luck blows away the next.

Witness the case of Flora Finch.

Ten years ago Flora Finch was the screen's foremost comedienne, foil of John Bunny. Today she is an "extra" in a forthcoming production starring Valentino.

"Oh, well, it's all in the game," said Flora, when she was spied in the big studio wearing the picturesque but sedate costume of an elderly lady in the Court of Louis XIV, a lady who passes across the stage in only one scene.

And she would say no more. That one sentence seemed to sum up her philosophy of life.

"CHICKIE"

The Beautiful, but Bluntly Honest Story of a Boston Girl

By ELENORE MEHERIN

Seething Life of a Lovely Boston Girl of This Strange Today

THE STORY OF "CHICKIE" TO DATE

"Chickie" Bryce is the only child in the family. Her sister having died when she was quite young, the parents lavished all their affection on "Chickie." As the story opens, "Chickie" is attending business college and Arthur Sontag, one of her classmates, takes her to a dance. "Chickie's" father is afraid of the pitfalls ahead for his daughter, but his fears are soothed by the girl and her mother. "Chickie" is thrilled to the core by the dance, and when Arthur kisses her as he bids her goodnight she believes that she has met "her hero." Mary Blake and "Chickie" blandly discuss love and marriage; Mary says it's too sordid for her, but "Chickie" thinks it will be all kisses and "walking on the mountain tops with her lover by her side." However, "Chickie" is disillusioned about a year later, when Arthur passes her on the street and fails to notice her. At eighteen, "Chickie" secured a position in a broker's office. There she met Janina, a girl worldly wise and one who told the other girls how to "handle" the men. "Chickie" went out with several men, but was not impressed by them. Mary Blake's sister, Lucy, married, and with four children, is an object of her sympathy.

"DON'T look so tragic, Chickie; we won't hang you today. Come on, now—call me darling Jimmy and I'll take the rope off your neck."

That night he said quietly: "Don't trouble over what I said, Chickie—though I don't see why you shouldn't love me some day. Perhaps if I go away for a while . . ."

"Oh, no. Don't do that, Jimmy. It's not that I don't love you. Why, I love you like anything. Oh, I think you're the darlingest fellow in the world—but I never dreamed——"

"I get you, Chickie. But that's all right. Maybe in a year, if I make myself scarce. Anyway, Chickie, you have no idea how much I'd do for you. I bet you'd be the happiest thing. Nobody else could love you as I do—why, for the last six years I've just been waiting to tell you. You know, Chickie—no matter how sore I got at the world, if I heard you laughing in the kitchen with Mary or if I saw you coming up the garden—gosh—I felt like the whole darn works just up and sang—

"And I'm not too old for you, Chickie. Six years isn't so much, and you need an older fellow—"

They were sitting on the davenport in the little living room. In the front garden Jennie was hosing her plants. Through the open door they could hear her puttering about.

Chickie kept her head down.

"Look at Nora Bright! She has everything she wants"

She knew Jimmy's face was all excited again. She said, "Oh, Jimmy darling, this is awful sad."

He moved closer to her—took her hand gently: "Don't look like that, Chickie—gee, you poor little kid—I won't say another word, only look up and laugh."

Chickie Crying

So she did, but when Jimmy left, she went softly down the hall to her own room and sat at the window looking into the back yard where Jennie's flowers were all in bloom. She thought of Mary and all their sweet, long years together. Mary gone—but she thought beyond this of Jimmy and the queer look of pain in Jimmy's eyes. She kept seeing that.

Jonathan found her there in the dark—put his long sinewy arm about her. Then he knew that she was crying. He laughed at her. "Chickie, girl, you wouldn't really want Mary to turn old maid, would you? Now don't go spoiling pretty eyes for nothing."

She didn't tell him it was for Jimmy she cried. She wouldn't tell that to Jonathan. Not for worlds. Deep in her heart she knew that he would have given her gladly—yes, Jonathan would have given her, his Chickie, gladly to Jimmy. So she wouldn't let him know—nor Jennie either.

It was so lonesome now. For days she went about with a forlorn quiet weighing on her heart.

When the Tuesday night they always went to the show came Jimmy was waiting as she got off the car coming from work. He caught her arm, pinched it hard and laughed right in her face. "See here you conceited little nut! I'm not hanging on a sour apple tree—not yet! Don't think you're getting away with this 'touch me not I'll melt' stuff! Be ready at 7.30. I have no cab fare, so you'll take the 'L.'"

Just as it always had been—darling old Jimmy again—nice, grown up Jimmy, and she could tell him all her troubles and ask his advice.

One night he said, "Did mother tell you? Mary sent a wire today. She's coming back. They're leaving at once. The drug company's offered Edward a great job—"

Hugged His Arm

She stood stock still in the middle of the street. Why, that was like the moon coming down and kissing her, so wild it made her feel with joy. She hugged his arm, she burst out laughing, saying, "Jimmy darling—darling—darling—when—oh—"

When Mary came they threw their arms about each other. They cried and then they laughed. And for a while were closer to each other than before.

It was wonderful—the change in Mary—all the snappy discontent gone—that high look of sweetness on her face. She moved about the little flat they took on Constance avenue like a young, ardent priestess all aglow with joy.

Nearly every afternoon Chickie ran in on her way home. Mary was wearing her soft, brown hair parted in the middle now and drawn quaintly half over her ears. This gave her dark face a chaste, quiet air that made Chickie think of gentle madonnas. She watched Mary arranging with graceful tenderness flowers on a snowy table—and, remembering this same Mary flouncing down the napkins and the pepper and salts when she used to set the table in the old home, Chickie burst out laughing:

"Mary, you're like prunes and prisms now."

"You mean with my hair parted? Edward likes it."

"Oh, Mary! Quoting Edward already. I suppose you'd hang a wart to the top of your nose if sweet Edward liked it?"

"I'll laugh at you yet, Chickie."

"Oh, my, yes! When pickles grow on a rose!"

"That is what I used to think. And all the while I was only waiting for Edward to come. That's what you're waiting for, too, Chickie."

"Not if I know it!"

"You do know it. Every time you see a man who strikes you as stunning, you begin to wonder, 'Is he the one?'"

Chickie flushed. Walking home slowly, this picture of Mary radiant in the little white kitchen kept flashing like a warm, happy smile. But, instead of Mary setting out the dainty blue dishes in the cozy breakfast nook, it was Chickie. Instead of Edward whistling through the hall, it was some one tall, with black hair straight across his forehead—not Jimmy, of course—but some one full of grins and big like Jimmy was. Dreaming this, her step hurried, grew light. She laughed, glancing about warily lest some one perceive the shy, bright exuberance wherein she walked.

Nothing Marred Picture

In the beginning nothing marred this picture. When the four of them went out together, people looked at them, because they laughed with such a careless glee. Old people—people about thirty or so—wondered what these young fools found so delicious and so comical in life.

It didn't last. There came a night when Mary wouldn't go to the show, though Jimmy had the four tickets. This happened twice. Chickie, dropping in one afternoon, urged impatiently: "Oh, why don't you come, Mary—why, you just want to stick around here and do nothing!"

Mary had drawn a chair over to the sink and was sitting there heavily, slicing tomatoes for a salad.

"Please come, Mary. If you're going to begin and spoil everything—"

Mary's face turned scarlet. "I would—I'd love to. I just don't feel equal——"

"Not equal to going to a show." Then Chickie stopped, for Mary's eyes had suddenly filled. Her lips were trembling. Chickie stood there and stared. All at once her heart began to pound—pound madly—sent a queer hotness stifling through her.

A Revelation

She saw Mary's eyes assenting and she whispered, frightened, "Oh, Mary, so soon," and [illegible] say another word [illegible] her throat got dry and tig[illegible]

Mary laughed nervou[illegible], took up her knife. "I thou[illegible] you guessed it long ago. It [illegible] so soon. Why, don't stand there crying about it! I'm glad."

WORDS FROM WISE MEN

It is a strange folly to set ourselves no mark, to propound no end.

Quiet and easy natures are like fair weather—welcome and acceptable to all men.

Selfishness is a vice utterly at variance with the happiness of him who harbors it and, as such, condemned by self love.

WAYS OF A HUSBAND

SEQUEL TO "WHEN A GIRL MARRIES"

By Ann Lisle

MY heart missed a beat. So Ruth Gregory had been at the week-end party at which Jim [illegible] the Cordovas. I [illegible] were [illegible] Ruth and [illegible] her [illegible] for [illegible] if she had snubbed her roundly, and if this were what brought Ramon to me. I gave him my full attention, waiting almost breathlessly for his next word.

Ann Lisle

"Miss Gregory is the name of the [illegible] artist. You know her?"

I [illegible] my head. My heart was thumping so that I couldn't trust myself to speak.

"Miss Gregory she understand my Rosa," declared Ramon proudly.

I wanted to laugh hysterically and to tell Ramon that I fancied Miss Gregory understood his Rosa very well indeed well enough, perhaps to handle her so cleverly that [illegible] would miss the shades of her meaning. But Ramon went on with a sturdy assurance that could not be doubted.

Charming and Gracious

"Miss Gregory she bring out my Rosa. She do not take up the thing my Rosa she say. She is charming and gracious. I think she like the little wife of me very much and admire her more yet. I think Jamie he very please that two such big women they are his friend and that they make to be the friend of each other also."

I did some quick thinking. The friendship of Ramon Cordova is vital to Jim's business. That friendship is built on a foundation of Ramon's love for the Rosa he so idealizes. To cement it Jim needs to have Ramon feel that Rosa is well liked by his friends—by his nearest and dearest. It has not been possible for me to pretend affection and regard for Rosa.

When Ramon Cordova told me that he and Rosa had spent the week-end with Jim's particular cronies and that Ruth Gregory was in the party I felt a great sense of chagrin. But when I found that Ruth Gregory had treated Rosa so well that Ramon was contrasting her attitude with mine and criticizing because of Miss Gregory's understanding of his Rosa, there were no words for my unhappy astonishment.

"You've explained Rosa to me, Mr. Cordova. I wonder if you explain me to her, too?"

"My Rosa, she understand every one," declared Ramon proudly.

"I'm the exception that proves the rule," I answered tritely, but hoping to save himself by the very simplicity of my expression. "Your Rosa is vivid, colorful, artistic and impressionable. She would comprehend the artistic temperament far more easily than my slow, plodding and literal-minded qualities. Now, you are a man who forms your judgments slowly. That's why you and Rosa are such a good team. She jumps—you march. And it's your kind I can understand because it is also my kind. Don't you see that? Oh, I'm sure you must! You're so fair-minded," I added, truly believing him far more than fair-minded in his generous explanations of his Rosa.

Ramon beamed. I realized I had touched on his essential vanity.

"What shall I say of you to Rosa?" he asked. "I am glad if I can make her more comfortable—"

"Make her see that I'm slow where she's brilliant," I said slowly and diplomatically [illegible] to understand that I'm simple while she's clever and farsighted. And don't let her forget how tre[illegible] I admired her understanding of human nature and her power to play on it. You've made Rosa very clear to me. Now, why don't you persuade her that I am no match for her?"

A Southern Compliment

Ramon studied me for a moment. Then he got to his feet and made a deep bow in which I thought I [illegible] trace of the mockery of manner that is often Rosa's weapon of defense.

"You are match for anyone," he said admiringly. "Perhaps you are even too clever for [illegible] simple Jamie, who [illegible] woman shall be without the mind of a man. But now I have something to say and then I make to go. Will you be with me friends?"

"I want to be," I declared, surprising myself by my own eagerness. "I think you're what we call a brick, Ramon Cordova. Perhaps you can [illegible] away the major part of our misunderstanding. I sometimes think it's my friendship for Mabel Storrs—"

"Of that woman we do not speak!" stormed Ramon, his face suddenly crimson. "But now to say what it is important to know. My Rosa she don't like anyone shall discuss her. I only want you shall see how she is. How it is I don't know, but I think unless you are to my Rosa very mean I [illegible] like you, Mis' Harrison. And if I like, I like—and if I don't, it don't do to Jim one bit of the goods. Now I have spoken. I go. And of this visit we make the secret between us, eh?"

MEDITATIONS OF A WIFE

By Helen Rowland

A MAN will believe almost any reason a girl may give for not kissing him except that she doesn't WANT to.

• • •

Sometimes a woman may be "fed up" on flattery—and yet be "starving for love."

• • •

When a woman says she "doesn't [illegible] ACCEPT [illegible] marry when a man says he doesn't expect to marry [illegible] he doesn't WANT to marry — and [illegible] defies any girl to make him.

Helen Rowland

Apparently the new generation make love in epigrams, propose between cigarettes, marry "con[illegible]" and divorce — for ex[illegible].

• • •

Falling out of love is as painful as coming out from under the anaesthetic after an operation; but fortunately, just as you think you are going to die of the shock another love comes along and interrupts you.

• • •

At twenty a woman's prayer is, "O Lord, give me another love—and another—and another!" At thirty it is, "O Lord, give me another husband—and a better one!" At forty it is, "O Lord, give me just another FLING!"

APPARATUS HAILED AS 'CURE ALL'

ABRAMS' "OSCILLOCLAST"

Photograph of the Oscilloclast used by Dr. Francis T. Davies, No. 541 Commonwealth avenue, official Boston instructor of the Abrams' methods of diagnosis and cure. The treatment consists of throwing into the patient's body an electric impulse having the same vibratory rate as that of the disease. The object of this is to increase the vibration of the disease so that it will eventually be shattered, just as a certain violin note, producing sympathetic vibrations in the rafters of a theatre, may cause the roof to fall. The patient must face west. He feels no sensation. The box (A) contains a series of resistance coils which receives the electric current from the electric light wires, by means of a wall-socket, and passes it on in waves to be regulated and tuned by the rheostats (B and C).

"OSCILLOCLASTS" ARE ONLY LEASED UNDER SEAL

Dr. Abrams publishes a list of more than 130 men who have leased one or more 'Oscilloclasts.' Sir James Barr's name heads the list."

In its issue of November 4, 1922, the Journal of the American Medical Association published an article headed: "Some of the lessees of Abrams' Oscilloclast." It read in part:

"Within the past few months—since, in fact he ceased to be a member of the American Medical Association—Abrams has been making frank bids for osteopathic patronage. Up until March, 1922, there were listed among the lessees of the 'oscilloclast' 166 physicians and two osteopaths.

On March 25, 1922, the first article on Abrams appeared in The Journal. Since that time the additional lessees of the 'oscilloclasts' comprise fifty-one physicans and more than 130 osteopaths.

"The names of nearly 100 lessees of the 'oscilloclast' appeared previously in the propaganda files of The Journal. Some were in the 'advertising specialist' business—we reproduce some of their old advertising—but the majority of the names in the files are of individuals who for years have lived in what we have called the twilight zone of professionalism, where it is difficult to distinguish between the visionary with a fad and the quack or near-quack with a scheme.

RAPS FOLLOWERS

"A surprising number of 'oscilloclast' lessees have also been engaged in the 'Auto-Hemic Therapy' business, which was the subject of an extended article in the propaganda department of The Journal February 14, 1920.

"Many are members of the 'Orificial Surgery' cult; a fair sprinkling belonged to the 'National League for Medical Freedom,' while some are members of the later organization, the 'American Medical Liberty League.' A large number are or have been members of that preposterous aggregation calling itself the 'Allied Medical Associations of America.'"

On the other hand, Abrams' defenders assert that hundreds of the most reputable physicians have accepted the theory and are practicing it.

Dr. Francis A. Cave, D. O., M. D., chief disciple of Dr. Abrams in Boston, in a pamphlet entitled "The Electronic Reactions of Abrams," stated that a graceful acknowledgment of the value of the Abrams methods was made by Sir James Barr, M. D., LL. D., F. R. C. P., ex-president of the British Medical Association, in the New York Medical Journal of February 15, 1922.

PRAISE FOR ABRAMS

Dr. Cave quoted Sir James as having made the following statement in discussing heart disease:

"For many years I have made regular use of the Abrams cardiac reflexes in the treatment of heart disease and consider them invaluable. They are not intended to resuscitate the dead, but for revivifying the living they are inestimable. These reflexes are readily elicited by the following method: Take a medium size cork, place an end on the seventh cervical spine and on the other end of the cork give thirty short, sharp taps with a plexor or small hammer.

"Repeat this on the second dorsal spine. Wait a minute and then repeat this series on the seventh cervical and second dorsal. Again wait a minute and repeat the third series. This procedure, if properly carried out, will reduce the transverse diameter of a large dilated heart by at least two inches, and the heart will remain contracted for one or two hours.

"At the same time the aorta is [illegible] contracted and pulsation in the suprasternal notch disappears, hence this maneuvre is of great value in the treatment of aneurysm; personally I have had many successes."

CRITIC SCORED

Pearson's Magazine for August, 1922, carried a letter said to have been written by Sir James Barr, which it claimed was addressed to and reprinted from the British Medical Journal.

This letter read:

"I have been much amused at your [illegible] criticism of my friend Dr. Albert Abrams in your issue of the sixth inst. You very seldom quote from the Journal of the American Medical Association and one might have expected that when you did so you would have chosen a more serious subject than an ignorant tirade against an eminent medical man against in my opinion the greatest genius in the medical profession.

"The American critic confessedly knows nothing of Abrams' work, though he acknowledges that he has written voluminously. What has Abrams' work in San Francisco and his high degree from Heidelberg to do with his discoveries? Can no good thing come out of Nazareth?

M. D.'S "IN RUT"

"Dr. Abrams has frequently exposed the methods of the American osteopaths and chiropractors with whom this writer links him, but Abrams has been honest enough to acknowledge the good work which they have done, just as many eminent London surgeons have been honest enough to speak in high terms of Mr. Barker, notwithstanding the fact that a man was struck off the Medical Register for administering anaesthetics for him.

"Dr. Abrams' blood examinations have long been established facts, and if this writer had been imbued with the spirit of science, of which he speaks so glibly, instead of ridiculing methods which he was incapable of understanding, he would have tested Abrams by sending a sample of blood from a patient whose disease he did understand.

"Dr. Abrams says: 'No diagnostic method is infallible' yet Dr H. A. Hess, a distinguished surgeon says, Dr. Abrams has made fifty examinations of blood for me, and all correct, as far as I can judge.' How many of the surgeons in this country could make a similar assertion?

M. D.'s "IN RUT"

Dr. J. Madison Taylor, a man well known in this country as well as in America, says: 'The light which Dr. Abrams' researches afford is the largest source of illumination and I, for one, welcome it with thankfulness.

"There is no secrecy about Dr. Abrams' methods. All his works are well known, and whether his theories be accepted or not, there is no honest individual who can refuse to accept his facts. There are hundreds of medical men from all parts of the world who visit his clinic, and they are not all fools or knaves as your colleague would seem to infer.

"I have never known a pupil of Abrams to speak of him except with the highest admiration. Your American friend tries to be very facetious over the sexuality of numbers, vowels and consonants, and avers that 'if there be any scientific foundation for the marvels that Dr. Abrams so picturesquely features, the scientific world has not yet found it out.'

"When did the scientific world ever find out a new fact until it was discovered? Ignorant ridicule may delay the general acceptance, but it can never kill a new discovery. It always seems to me very deplorable that medical men, in place of leading the van in preventive medicine and in the treatment of disease, have frequently to be forced into new positions.

BLAMES IGNORANCE

"A good many of Dr. Abrams' instruments can be seen in London and have been seen by many medical men; therefore there is no excuse for bolstering up an ignorant American fusillade. Dr. Abrams wisely refuses to part with his instruments until he knows that they will be properly used, and that the user is competent to carry out his methods. Imagine a delicate instrument in the hands of your American colleague; Dr. Abrams and his methods would be discredited at once.

FORBES' Views on FINANCE

—By B. C. Forbes—

In the South, Feb. 13.—Nearly all of us feel that there is some one thing we can do better than anybody else or that we own something which is different and better than possessed by anyone else. Every mother sees something marvelous in her child. Almost every family can relate—and is fond of relating—some superlatively smart thing said or done by Little Johnnie or Little Sister.

Towns, cities, states are the same.

Poor, indeed, is the town that can't show you something that is "the greatest in the country." many places go even farther; they have this or that which is "the greatest in the world."

The South is no exception to this very human trait. It has many of "the greatest." I have not yet visited any town that could not boast—legitimately—of something bigger or better than possessed by any other place. And, of course, every State has a few or a few dozen of "the greatest."

* * *

This civic pride is stimulating, inspiring, wholesome. It spurs to greater effort. It quickens enterprise. It makes for new achievement. Ambition is a raw material of achievement.

Therefore instead of scoffing at local pride of accomplishment, we ought to encourage it. Nothing attempted, nothing done.

* * *

Take Tampa—this note has been handed me—and I have no doubt it expresses a literal fact:

"Tampa manufactures more clear Havana cigars than any other city in the world."

How many cigars, think you, were made in Tampa in 1923? More than half a billion—582,000,000, to be exact. The manufacturers paid the United States government more than $4,370,000 for cigar revenue stamps during the year, or nearly a million dollars more than in the previous year, showing the tremendous growth of this important industry.

Then read this:

"Tampa ships more phosphate than any other port in the world."

Here again there was a notable increase last year—100,000 tons.

Tampa is growing very rapidly. New "sections" are springing up almost overnight. Along the bay front are many fine homes.

The population has passed the 100,000 mark, and the 1925 State census is expected to show between 125,000 and 150,000.

Municipal ownership is making headway throughout the South.

At virtually every place I have so far visited developments in this direction are under way. Tampa has just bought out the water works plant from a private corporation and plans to spend $1,300,000 for extensions.

Here's another significant sidelight on civic government in the South: Houston places the main part of taxation on the value of the land rather than on the value of the buildings erected on it.

This policy, I rather think, is likely to be broadened, because the progressive cities of the South are keen to see fine buildings put up.

Incidentally, the high cost of lumber has given an impetus to the construction of other than frame houses, with the result that one sees in the better residence sections of various cities many imposing brick and stucco homes.

* * *

Louisiana will next be discussed.

ABOUT YOUR BEAUTY

By Maria Jaritza
Famous Prima Donna of the Metropolitan Opera Company

Activity Best Aid to Slenderness

A CERTAIN beautiful woman recently returned from a three-year sojourn in Europe, where her husband had achieved triumphal success in his profession of actor-manager. Previous to her departure abroad she had made not altogether successful efforts to keep thin.

On her return a friend complimented her on her beautiful slenderness and youthfulness and asked the recipe.

"I have simply not had time to think about myself," was the reply. "I have been kept so busy jumping all over the world with my husband and so interested in his success that I forgot to worry about getting fat. Then, too, I have been happy. Perhaps happiness keeps one young."

In this answer is contained a truth which may suggest to other women the best means of remaining young and slender.

Slenderness, however, it is well to remember, is one thing, while attenuated, angular thinness, as suggested by the catchword "lead pencil silhouette," for instance, is quite another.

Thinness to the point of angularity is not desirable from the standpoint of either health or beauty. The very word "lead-pencil silhouette" suggested a hard straightness that is a trifle woodeny and neither natural nor charming.

Nor do fashionable authorities advocate the extreme thinness for which some women are mistakenly struggling. Fashion authorities, after all, merely suggest a variety of modes. They do not use edicts. To be a slave to fashion is to impose on oneself a servitude that kills all individuality, intelligence and charm. To look to fashion for suggestions is to be wise in one's day and generation.

Fashion in this case suggests that overweight is unlovely and does not add to the becomingness of any of the many modes and designs of this season, which are suited to the normally slim figure.

For this and the added reason that fat looks awkward and leads to awkwardness, destroying lines of natural symmetry, authorities on beauty agree with both fashion and health authorities that overweight and overfatness are to be condemned.

Very often overweight works mischief first of all through the increased size of the hips.

General reducing measures will overcome this condition.

Do not eat more than you need. The candy that is just too much and gives you a feeling of overfullness, you do not really want or enjoy. Find active interests in life, quite outside yourself.

Here is an exercise that is simplicity itself. Yet a leading authority on beauty has declared that the woman who practices it every day forty times will have slim hips.

Stand straight with your heels together, arms at your sides, weight well over the ball of your feet. Now kick straight out in front of you with your right leg until it is as high as your waist. Keep both knees straight, your right toes pointed out. As you kick pull your arms straight back of you with a quick movement. This will tend to develop the beauty of your chest. Return to position.

Practice this exercise a certain number of times with your right leg, then alternate, kicking out with your left leg. Gradually increase the number of times until you can take the exercise forty times each day without fatigue.

The result for you of these simple measures should be a becoming slimness in accord with the standard of fashion, health and beauty.

ADVICE TO LOVELORN

By Beatrice Fairfax

An Unrequited Affection

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am in love with a man five years my senior and he loves me I know.

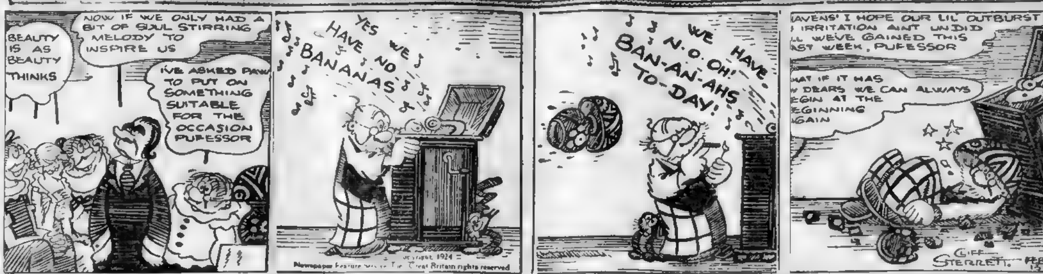

Some weeks ago I called up his mother to ask him to keep an engagement during the week, but she didn't seem to care to let him go out with me. He is her only support and they have a beautiful home, but I can't seem to account for his mother's strange actions.

However, I wrote him a letter about the mother, but he was so indignant over it he wouldn't answer, or I haven't seen him lately. To cover my act I sent them Christmas presents, but they returned them.

Can you solve the mystery for me? I have written two letters of apology but as yet have had no [illegible]

STOP pursuing the man with attentions and explanations. Evidently he is more interested in satisfying his mother than in keeping faith with you. Since it has been made clear to you that you are not welcome as a friend, you cannot force the situation. Either the man is afraid of his mother and completely under her subjection, or else he was merely amusing himself with you and grew angry at having you take more for granted than he cared to establish. Your best chance for happiness and self respect lies in dropping the matter and seeking friendship where it is wanted.

extend their appreciation for your gift

Gifts were received from various people for engagement, reception and announcement. Or is it far more advisable to write personally, and if so, please advise me accordingly.

MRS. B.

BY all means let me urge you not to send the printed card in acknowledgment of the generous courtesies of your friends. To send such a card to people who have had such definitely kind thoughts of us is to seem to say, "You were kind to me, I know, but I won't make any special acknowledgment of this special thought of yours. I am in a hurry, and I can't be bothered wording a note of thanks to you; so I let the printer say my thanks."

When a friend has had a real thought of us, has taken the time and care to express that thought in something that he or she thinks will give us pleasure and happiness, we should acknowledge such a spirit in the most personal and gracious way possible, that is, by a friendly, graceful note of thanks.

In writing a note of thanks, express your appreciation first of the spirit behind the gift, the thought that prompted its sending. It has always seemed to me very [illegible] and almost shrewd to have a letter of thanks begin "Thank you very much for the lovely candle sticks." It is so much warmer and shows I think [illegible] the generosity of [illegible] "Thank you so very [illegible] thought of [illegible] Then mentioning the gift by name [illegible] appropriateness in color [illegible] to some room, or some other [illegible] that will convince the friend that you are really appreciative [illegible] very far from [illegible] impression that certain gifts are "expected" at certain times [illegible] this one was of that va[illegible]

MEDBURY SAYS—

By John P. Medbury

THE most annoying thing in the world is to get into a dentist chair and then have the dentist start talking to you about radio.

HE [illegible] London the other night and then stuffs a wad of cotton in your mouth so that you can't call him a liar.

WHILE he's telling you about the wonderful broadcasting station in Pittsburgh he pulls three wrong teeth.

IT'S almost impossible to tell him you got WBAP while his hand is half way down your throat.

A DENTIST'S drill has fifty per cent. more static than all the radio receivers on the market.

THE average person suffers more having a tooth pulled than he does trying to get the Philippine Islands on a crystal set.

HE tries to tune in Honolulu on your wisdom teeth.

THEN he pushes some kind of plug into your mouth and expects to hear music.

BUT all he can get out of you is a lot of howls.

HE presses on a nerve and then wonders why the sets aren't [illegible]

IF you're a radio bug you're liable to get excited and tell him that you've got a super-hetrodyne. As soon as you do that he adds ninety dollars to your bill.

THE best thing to do is to tell him that you live in a furnished room and can't afford a harmonica.

DE FOREST TUBE PROTECTED BY AGREEMENT

Distribution Is Not Affected by Litigation, Declares President Gilbert

The manufacture and distribution of De Forest vacuum tubes will not be affected by litigation now pending between the De Forest Radio Telephone & Telegraph Company and the Radio Corporation, it is stated by Charles Gilbert, vice-president and treasurer of the De Forest company.

Gilbert's announcement is made, he declares, as a result of recent statements by the Radio Corporation to the effect that unlicensed vacuum tubes are being manufactured by many companies.

"We hope that the radio public will not be misled into the belief that the right of the DeForest company to manufacture and sell vacuum tubes is being attacked," said Gilbert.

"The present litigation has its roots in an agreement the DeForest company made with the Western Electric Company in 1917, whereby we granted a license under the De Forest vacuum tube patents.

"But we retained important rights, especially the one which interests the radio fan—the right to manufacture and sell the vacuum tube for broadcast reception. We own them today."

The Listener

Lit Brothers station in Philadelphia, WDAR, is bound the whole world will know when they are through broadcasting for the night. In addition to a lengthy spiel by the announcer in which he elaborately tells he is signing off "in voice," the entire Good Night is then repeated in code.

That new station, WBBR, the People's Pulpit Association in Brooklyn, N. Y., came through pretty good around here. Incidentally, their address as given in the report from the radio supervisor at Rossville, N. Y. It was announced, however, as No. 124 Columbia Heights, Brookline.

Jazz is still King. While the audience at the Passing Show the other night was generous with its applause for the songs and specialties, when Ted Lewis and his band performed, the volume of handclapping was far in excess of any other time during the show.

WIP, down in Philadelphia, has a fine bit of organization. They broadcast two orchestras from two remote control stations. One is Charlie Kerr's Orchestra, at the St. James, and the other is the Cafe L'Aiglon Orchestra. The announcer at the St. James barely finishes the announcement after a selection than the voice of the announcer at the L'Aiglon is on the air. Hardly a second's delay. And both orchestras are good ones.

Radio Queries

I noticed in the radio queries tonight a request for the location of Station WWAE. It is located at the Alamo Dance Hall, Joliet, Ill. It is a 500-watt station, 227 meter wave-length. I have a three-circuit, three-tube, home-built set, and in the last month have heard fifty-six stations. I think I will try your Super next. W. J. H.

Good work!

Can you tell me what station was going about 12.30 Friday night? All the selections were jazz. Also, is there such a station as KXKD in Buffalo? J. L. S.

WGR is the only station in Buffalo. There is no KXKD listed.

In reply to query of W. H. Babcock, I wish to state that Miss Boyle, the blind pianist, was playing from Station WJZ, New York. I listened to all her selections, and they were of the best.

I have been using your Super set with seventeen-plate, Se-Ar-De condensers, and it tunes too high. How can I change my coils for lower waves. I can get KYW at about 61 on both dials. Coils are now wound with single silk, 73 turns on secondary and 5¾ on primary. J. B. C.

You will get better results by changing the condensers, rather than the coils. The Super is very selective with the condensers recommended (not over 13-plate or .00035 mfd.), and a 17-plate condenser would make it very difficult to tune.

WNAC, The Shepard Stores, has given the ear many treats, but they have now prepared a treat for the eye as well.

RADIO MOVIES ARE NOW NEAR PERFECTION

Expert Successfully Accomplishes Feat in Capitol; Details Being Worked Out

By FRANK SAVAGE.
International News Service.)

New York, Feb. 13.—Moving pictures by radio are now the accomplished fact, according to C. Francis Jenkins of the Radio Picture Corporation of Washington, D. C.

Jenkins, who is a member of the Franklin Institute, the American Association for the Advancement of Science and other scientific bodies, in a letter to the writer declared that transmission of motion pictures is a daily occurrence now in his Washington laboratories.

Motion picture transmission, Jenkins wrote, has not been developed, of course, to the point of excellence achievable in "radio photos," but this degree of perfection is only a matter of time—and speed, he believes.

According to Jenkins' letter, which was accomplished by samples of pictures sent and received by radio, the newest and most important development in radio picture transmission, in radio movies and the motion picture industry generally, is a new optical device called the "prismatic ring."

By means of this apparatus a pencil ray of light passes through rotating glass disks whose graduated thicknesses "bend" the rays the same as in a prism, causing the rays to oscillate.

These oscillating rays ultimately cover the whole of a negative, a picture, or an exterior scene, and in turn are impinged on a light-sensitive photo-electric cell. The modulated light waves in parallel adjacent lines are transmuted by electrical current into radio frequency of corresponding variation and the impulses broadcasted.

A "home" machine already has been built whose exterior resembles the popular cabinet phonograph, which is said to be capable of producing motion pictures by means of a patented multiple-disk comprising a series of consecutive scenes. This device also employs an application of the prismatic principle, although in this case the glass element is in the form of a band instead of a disk.

TUBES LIGHTED FROM A. C. HOUSE CURRENT

A new transformer for lighting the filaments of amplifier tubes from 110-volt A. C. house current has just been put on the market by the electrical division of the Eagle Curburetor Company of Cleveland. The device is compact and inexpensive, being somewhat smaller than the General Radio transformer that was made for the same purpose. A neutral lead, taken from the electrical centre of the alternating current wave, goes to the grid, and reduces the hum to a point where it is negligible. A filament control gives any voltage from one to six, making other rheostats unnecessary. It is not suitable for use on detector tubes, but may be used on either radio or audio-frequency. The trade name is Radio Powr.

Radio Receiving Conditions Tonight

Radio broadcasting conditions tonight will be good from stations broadcasting in New England, the entire Eastern, South and Southwestern parts of the country, west to the Great Lakes district and throughout the lower part of Canada.

Conditions from stations in the Middle and extreme Western portions of the country will not be good.

AMERICAN STATIONS HEARD IN SAMOA

Two mid-Western broadcasting stations have been heard in Apia, Samoan Islands, according to reports from Quincy F. Roberts, American Consul at Apia. Roberts, operating a single circuit regenerative receiver with two stages of audio-frequency amplification, has twice picked up WBAP, the station of the Star-Telegram at Fort Worth, and has enjoyed a Sunday evening concert by the Sweeney Radio Orchestra from WHB.

JOINT RECITAL BY WNAC TOMORROW

An unusual afternoon broadcast from WNAC is scheduled for tomorrow, when Fela Rybler, pianist, and Alessandro Niccoli, violinist, will broadcast a recital from WNAC, the Shepard Stores station.

Miss Rybler is a talented young pianist who has studied in Berlin under several teachers.

Allessandro Niccoli is a graduate of the Royal Institute Musicale of Florence and a gold medalist of the Royal Institute Musicale in Rome.

NEW 500-WATTER OPENED IN CHICAGO

Another broadcasting station was added to the Chicago list when WTAY was formally opened at the new Oak Arms Hotel, Oak Park, Ill. The new station operates in connection with Oak Leaves, a local publication. It will be a 500-watt station and will broadcast on a wave-length of 244 meters.

NEW IOWA STATION TO BE ON 484 METERS

The new 500-watt broadcasting station at the University of Iowa City, Iowa, will operate on 484 meters, which is the same wave length as that assigned to WOC, the Palmer School of Chiropractic. The two stations will divide operating time. WHAA, the university station, will retain its old call letters WHAA. It will be on the air Sunday afternoon and on Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday evenings.

WANT SPECIAL BROADCAST TO PACIFIC

Plan to Give Coast a Program Between 1 and 3 in the Morning

New York, Feb. 13.—A suggestion that the National Association of Broadcasters arrange a schedule of its members for broadcasting late programs for the benefit of Pacific Coast listeners, is being seriously considered and may be put in effect.

Inasmuch as there is a difference of three hours between Eastern standard and Pacific Coast time and two hours between Central standard and Pacific Coast time, an Eastern station signing off at 10:30, Eastern time, would be stopping its program at 7:30 on the Pacific Coast, and a Midwest station signing off at 10:30 Central time would be stopping its program at 8:30 on the Pacific Coast.

The N. A. B. stations are being asked if they believe that special early morning broadcasts for Pacific Coast listeners would be a desirable project. If the suggestion is acted on it will mean putting on programs approximately between the hours of 1 and 3 o'clock in the morning.

If such a plan is found desirable, the association will arrange a schedule, so that each station which considers this service advisable, can go on the air one night a week, or if a sufficient number are favorable perhaps once in two weeks.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. F. X. MAHONEY, Boston Health Commissioner.

NO disease is more widespread or so neglected as the common cold.

The affliction is so common the average person doesn't take the trouble to guard against it.

A cold or "just a sore throat," particularly in children, should be treated seriously.

Dr Mahoney

Measles and whooping cough, those two banes of childhood, generally begin like head colds.

Diphtheria and scarlet fever as generally, "just a little sore throat" at the beginning.

Colds often act like other communicable diseases. Someone in the family catches cold and brings the disease home. Then one after another the members of the family are afflicted with the disease.

To avoid this danger [illegible] for the first victim and see [illegible] he sneezes or coughs in his handkerchief.

The sneezer with a cold literally sprays the air with the germs. If you happen to be in the vicinity and your vitality happens to be a little low, you are certain to "catch" it.

Physical perfection means resistance to disease. The most essential thing necessary to obtain this condition is the breathing of fresh air. To breathe foul air is extremely dangerous to health, as it lowers the natural resistance to disease.

Public conveyances, such as street, elevated and railroad cars, especially when crowded, may be dangerous to health. Under such conditions one may breathe air which contains matter that has been expelled from infected lungs and throats.

For protection of others this rule should be observed: Do not spit except in proper receptacles. It is dangerous, indecent, unlawful and spreads disease. Do not cough or sneeze without holding your handkerchief over your nose and mouth.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Is there any remedy for bleeding gums? I have gone to the dentist for over a year and my gums bleed as much as ever. My tongue is cracked, too. C. M.

Bleeding gums may be due to various causes. If a dentist cannot aid you, consult a physician.

A place the size of a pinhead, between the second and third joints on my first finger, developed into a wart. Now another is forming about an inch away. What causes this? DAILY READER.

The cause of warts is generally unknown. Burning with glacial ascetic acid or nitric acid will remove them, but great care in its application is essential. It is much safer to have a physician do this.

I am eighteen years old and have so heavy a beard that I must shave every day. Do you think I will have to shave every few hours when I get older. D. M.

Do not worry about your beard. By no means use any medicines to interfere with proper natural functions. You will not have to shave more than once a day even when you are older.

Is auto-intoxication caused from a bad stomach? A. S. O.

Auto-intoxication may be due to a bad stomach, but there is no reason for worry. I would advise no medicines, unless given by a reputable physician.

Would an X-ray show an abscess in the throat or chest? My throat has been bothering some time. MRS. C. E. B.

An X-ray will not show an abscess in the throat. I would advise you to see a throat specialist.

supper will be served back stage with the entire cast as the guests of the Advertising Clubs. This will be followed by dancing on the stage. A number of prizes are to be awarded between acts and during the dancing.

Charles F. Coe, chairman; Chester I. Campbell, Miss A Frances Hanson, president of the Women's Advertising Club; George Lenz, Herbert Stephens, Herbert Farrier, George D. Moulton, Cyrus Kauffman and W. J. Coe are in charge of arrangements.

L. C. CAMPBELL WINS GILCHRIST ELECTION

The annual election of officers of the Gilchrist Association resulted in the election of Louis C. Campbell as president with a margin of 61 votes out of a total of 1,280, cast between 10 in the morning and 3:30 in the afternoon. After the result of the election had been announced the organization's band went through the store playing, to celebrate the occasion.

WARREN TO ACCEPT IF COOLIDGE PRESSES

New York, Feb. 13.—Charles B. Warren, former ambassador to Japan and one of the commissioners who represented the United States at the negotiations that led to the recognition of exico, declined to comment today on a report that he was to be appointed ambassador to Mexico. Friends said, however, that he had been urged by President Coolidge and Secretary Hughes to accept the post, but felt he did not care to take another public position. Should he be further pressed, it was said, he might accept from a sense of public duty.

MEN'S APPAREL CLUB JOINS IN BANQUET

Advised That Requisite of Good Advertising Is Real Enthusiasm

The fundamental requisite of good advertising is "enthusiasm."

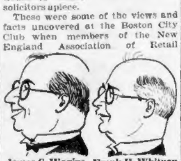

If the New England retail clothing dealer wants to give the mail order house a battle royal, he should try sending out solicitors.

Jerry P. Wall

Three houses selling silk underwear direct from the factory have 10,000 house-to-house solicitors apiece.

These were some of the views and facts uncovered at the Boston City Club when members of the New England Association of Retail

James C. Higgins Frank H. Whitney

Clothiers and Furnishers and the New England Men's Apparel Club came together for the annual joint banquet.

Both organizations are holding their annual convention here. The Men's Apparel Club is made up of traveling salesmen.

Jerry P. Wall of North Adams acted as toastmaster. Among the speakers were President Frank H. Whitney of the National Association of Men's Apparel Clubs, Vice-President Julius C. Morse of the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers, President James C. Higgins of the New England Men's Apparel Club, State Senator William A. O'Hearn of North Adams and Assistant District Attorney Daniel T. O'Connell.

Senator W. A. O'Hearn Attorney "Don" O'Connell

John S. Greenwalt, of the Greenwalt Advertising Service, urged the merit of enthusiasm in the writing of advertisements. Thomas K. Kelly of Minneapolis described the immense growth of the mail order houses and outlined ways of meeting their competition.

NEW HAVEN WORKERS TO HOLD BALL FRIDAY

The Mechanical Department Association of the Boston Division, N. Y., N. H. & H. Railroad, will hold its first annual ball in Convention Hall on Friday evening. General Manager C. L. Bardo, and Miss Louise Linsenmeyer, daughter of the president of the association, will lead the grand march.

Minute Men, Does your old home town need Help? The American will gladly work with YOU to find an opportunity for it.

Minute Men of Two New England Villages Make Their Own Opportunity

OPPORTUNITY.

What is it?

It is the front door to success.

Sages say Opportunity knocks at one's door. Experience proves that the Wise Man knocks at the door of Opportunity. Not only knocks, but walks in.

When Boston had a police strike Calvin Coolidge as Governor acted with precision and decisiveness and overnight became known to the nation. The strike was his Opportunity. He grasped it.

When Alexander Graham Bell discovered how to transmit sound by electricity, Theodore N. Vail was general superintendent of the government railway mail service. Bell needed somebody to help him make the telephone a success. Vail saw the OPPORTUNITY, and against the advice of friends resigned his government place, joined Bell and made the telephone one of the great factors in the progress of the world. His career is the story of a man who sees and takes advantage of opportunity.

Africa's resources were unknown until Livingstone explored it. They lay dormant even then until Cecil Rhodes exploited it.

Cecil Rhodes was Africa's OPPORTUNITY.

Africa was Cecil Rhodes' OPPORTUNITY.

Cecil Rhodes found Africa possessed of wealth that would have staggered a colossus.

The vastness of Africa did not intimidate him.

Today we need Minute Men possessed of vision to exploit New England as Rhodes exploited Africa.

OPPORTUNITIES, begging for cultivation, are on every hand in our New England States.

Every hamlet, village, city and county have magic gateways to development and riches, all labelled OPPORTUNITY.

Yet how many times do we pass waste land each day of our lives. Have we embraced OPPORTUNITY enough to purchase a lot and cultivate it?

No. We are gazing out on the horizon crying for OPPORTUNITY to knock at our door, yet there it is at the roadside and we pass it by unseeing.

Not long ago a gentleman died in Ohio, the Match King of the Nation. He died worth millions, the owner of blooded stock, prize milch cows and such.

Suddenly a gentleman up in Cheshire County, New Hampshire, discovered that New Englanders had been helping to make the Ohio man's wealth by shipping him pine blocks with which to make matches. Said he:

"Why can't we make those matches here? Not only make them, but make them MORE CHEAPLY than did this Ohioan."

Now it is possible to buy matches in New England with a saving on every carload manufactured of $390. For when the man in Ohio made our matches it cost $150 freight charges on the carful of soft pine blocks we sent him and $240 more on the returned carload of finished matches.

The pine blocks are now taken from box factories and wheeled into match factories erected in the same vicinity.

If you Minute Men of 1924 explore New England you will find hundreds of opportunities similar to the match episode begging for cultivation and exploitation.

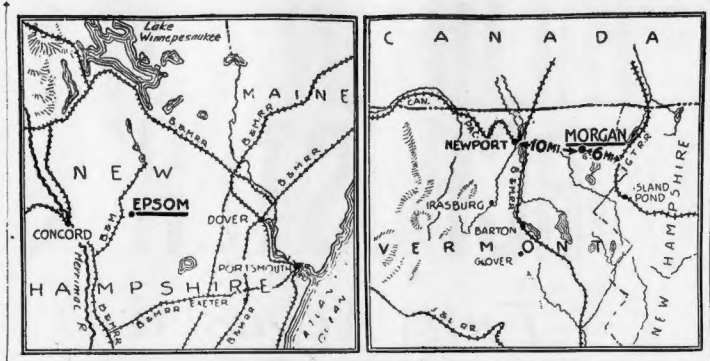

Up in Vermont there lies snuggled near the Canadian border the town of Morgan. It isn't much of a town as towns go either in size or beauty.

About twenty-five years ago Morgan boasted of 510 residents. Then its arteries hardened and the town began to slowly die.

In ten years the population fell to 463.

In ten more years it was down to 368. Then came a man with vision. He was W. S. Rossiter of Concord, N. H., president of the Rumford Press.

There is a beautiful little lake lying between the two hamlets which make up the Morgan township. To Mr. Rossiter a strip on the lake front appealed as the ideal spot for a Summer home and so he became a Summer resident.

The simple stories of Morgan, Vt., and Epsom, N. H., prove that opportunity waits on our doorsteps. These two little villages, facing decay a few years ago, have seen their opportunity and today are flourishing. Morgan is isolated. No railroad communication. Nothing but little red apples, wild cherries and maple syrup brought it to life. Epsom, cut off from its former source of business, possessing limited railroad facilities, was saved by four pioneers who made opportunity and put it to work. What these villages did other New England villages can do. The minute men of 1924 must spur them on to do it.

That was three years ago. It did not take him long to find out why the town was so peaceful.

It was a town of lost hope.

One day one of the two brothers, who conduct the only store, spoke to him, intimating that they were going to shut up shop and move away.

There was not a chance to succeed in Morgan, they said.

"Let me tell you some things and then go home and talk them over; see me in a day or two, and, if you have grasped the ideas, I will help you turn failure into prosperity here in Morgan," Mr. Rossiter told them.

He did tell them some things. His advice was taken.

Mr. Rossiter came to Boston to see a merchant friend from whom he borrowed a list of names of the best women customers of the great store. Armed with these he wrote a letter and mailed it to the Boston women.

That letter tells the story best from this point on. In the opening paragraph he piqued the curiosity of the women by writing a little epic of his Summer home; then he suddenly referred to the drop in population and the languishing condition of the people

"But at length these good people are trying to bestir themselves," he wrote. "They long to do something to bring hope and cheer again to the town. The first step, obviously, is to utilize such advantages as they possess. These are limited.

"Practically no fruits but berries grow in this cold North country—except a sour little red apple. The apples with famous names can't stand the climate, but this humble little apple laughs at 50 below zero and flourishes in Morgan.

"It is hopeless for eating purposes, and poor for baking, but it makes the most glorious jelly. It is better than any other apple jelly made with more high-brow names. Almost everybody who buys that jelly wants more.

"Naturally enough, the Morgan people have not paid any attention to that little red apple. They never rated it as an asset. I tell them it can make the town, and so we are going to try to start something this Fall with apple jelly as the leader.

"In addition are two other delicious native products, wild cherry jelly and maple butter. The natural puckery quality of the wild cherry is tempered with enough apple juice to make a most appetizing jelly. The maple butter is pure maple sugar, from this home of the maple, ingeniously beaten to a stiff, permanent cream, which can be spread on cakes or other surfaces like butter."

That letter was sent out on September 14, 1922. Order cards had been enclosed in the letters, and there was great excitement at the local postoffice as the cards began to pour in three days later.

By the end of the first week orders for about 1,200 glasses and jars had been received. Sleep was forgotten. Every man and boy in the town was out gathering apples and harvesting wild cherries. Every woman and girl was scrubbing pots and kettles when not otherwise engaged in jelly-making.

Filled glasses and jars soon occupied all the available space of the store and homes. Living rooms and the halls were storerooms and every kitchen was a jelly factory.

Never had there been such an awakening in the old town. In two weeks 2,500 orders had been received and by October 10 they exceeded 3,000, with requests pouring in every day.

In December the Morgan Community Industries was organized and one of the first things it did was to send out word to the customers to let up for a while on orders.

"We have reached the end of our ability to fill orders for jelly," they said.

Cards had gone only to Boston, but orders had been received from every New England State and also from New York, Pennsylvania and the District of Columbia. One large New York hotel wanted to take the whole product of the place.

On December 11, when the Community Industries had to refuse to fill any more orders except for maple butter, the total of the business showing, in glasses and jars, was:

Apple jelly	2,038
Wild cherry jelly	1,824
Maple butter	610
Total	4,472

Now there is talk of building a factory.

Is this an isolated miracle of New England origin?

No.

What Morgan has awakened to, a thousand other towns and hamlets can accomplish by seeing and using OPPORTUNITY.

What Morgan did Epsom, New Hampshire, has done.

Epsom is a little town fifteen miles northeast of Manchester, N. H. It has 655 residents. It is off the main line of the railroad. Up to ten years ago Epsom was a milk town.

Little by little the Boston market had been going farther north along main railroad lines for its milk and the demand for milk from the side lines was steadily growing less.

Four of the leading farmers of the town saw the handwriting on the wall. They decided it was time to act.

These four pioneers of modern poultry methods —and this is a story of how poultry saved Epsom—are Horace Edmunds, Bert Stanley, S. W. Bickford and H. S. Bickford. They could see no get-rich-quick opportunities and so they followed the advice of the famous man of many years ago who said, "A wise man will make more opportunities than he finds."

And they made their own opportunity. There was no special reason why they should turn to poultry. It had never been followed successfully by them or their neighbors. They were yeomen of the dairy, and all their lives their principal thoughts had been of milk and butter.

They decided to study poultry and raise the best; to study marketing; to make a reputation for Epsom poultry.

There were in Epsom at the time not enough hens to bother counting. Farmers kept them for eggs for themselves, an occasional Sunday dinner and that was all. This was ten years ago.

In 1920 Epsom had 14,876 hens.

Last year Epsom had 38,000 hens. Daily egg shipments averaged 600 dozen or 7,200 eggs.

One dealer sold more than 30,000 day-old chicks.

All dealers shipped squabs, broilers and roasting chickens.

Also sold fertile eggs for breeding.

From a one-horse milk depot town Epsom in ten years has become the GREATEST POULTRY TOWN IN NEW ENGLAND.

Instead of raising chickens haphazardly Epsom's farmers went to the University of New Hampshire and learned from Professor S. W. Richardson scientific chicken farming.

They adopted and developed the rotation-of-poultry-crops. They dispose of hens for eating after a certain age, depend upon incoming pullets for eggs and sell day-old chicks between times. This makes a circle insuring year-around income and business. Behind all the effort Epsom packed a New England Conscience and insisted upon Cleanliness, Purity and Guaranteed Products.

The world today develops as the wideawake seize their opportunities and blaze a path.

The Middle West leads in farming not because New England has unfertile soil and the OPPORTUNITY to raise everything she needs for home consumption.

They lead because the pioneers of the West—and they were from New England—willed it so.

They found OPPORTUNITY on the prairies, and cities like Chicago resulted.

We responded to the cries to rehabilitate and rebuild France, yet WE FAIL TO REHABILITATE AND REBUILD NEW ENGLAND.

We let land lie idle, which, as Ex-Governor Bass warns, costs us MILLIONS OF DOLLARS ANNUALLY.

Daily we eat loins of pork shipped from far-off Kansas when right outside of Boston a famous sausage factory raises pigs for slaughter.

Must we train our spy glass on far-off Europe and let our very back yard lie neglected?

Are we going to pass by OPPORTUNITY here to seek it in a far-off land?

The answer lies with the MINUTE MEN of 1924.

Minute Men, take a moment from the rush of life and look back at the little town where you passed your boyhood.

Is your little town flourishing? Or is it facing what Morgan and Epsom faced a few years ago?

Is there something you can do to help it?

Do you see an OPPORTUNITY which your old home town is missing?

If you do let the American know about it.

The American will work with you to help New England find and use its OPPORTUNITIES.
